Physical Description

Alima is a woman who stands at 5'5 with waist-length black hair with a long bang to either side of the face. Her skin is a light olive that tans easily. She has complex dark green eyes, a curvy hourglass figure with particularly wide hips, but not excessively so, with a lean yet well-toned musculature. She has a very youthful face and 26-year-old appearing physical body, with her face being a soft heart shape. She has an over cumbersome chest size as a D cup, or it would be if she wasn't augmented, a fact that can't be told on appearances alone.

Personality

Alima is generally quiet and soft-spoken, to an almost unnerving degree. She is very analytical in how she thinks and pays close attention to even the smallest of details. Below this layer of calm is underlying anger that has never gone away, but that she rarely allows to surface. Alima almost never acts without thinking things through first. She is also attracted to the dangerous situations and men. She is shy and quiet, but not awkward. She will never tell something that she was told or saw in confidence. She is loyal to her friends and dedicated to her job.

History

Alima was born in YE 08 in a slum on Planet Nepleslia. She was quickly recognized as being intelligent. She was a quiet girl who often slipped away to hide and read. When she was in her teens, she helped her gang member boyfriend at the time hide a body. This started her on what would become her career. She methodically developed contacts and taught herself the trade. By the mid YE 30s, she was well established in both her trades across Nepleslian space and beyond.

In the late YE 30s, she was hired by Ven Volontany to assist in hiding Ven's war against Poseidon. This took her all across known space and landed her on Planet Osman where she also did some work for the government. She also developed an attraction towards Lazarus and while the two were together for only a short time, it was intense enough to produce a child, Nora who was quickly stolen by Carolina Saksencoburg. For the next three years, she would unsuccessfully look for her daughter.

Skills Learned

She is an independent cleaner for hire. If you need to hide the evidence of a crime, she is one of the best in the business. Her work is efficient, methodical, and thorough. In addition to her evidence cleaning work, she also does regular cleaning which she is sought after for as well. She has a lot of underworld contact and is well known for her services. While she can handle a pistol, she is not a fighter. She prefers to avoid or hide when conflict presents its self. She is an expert in stealth and getting into and out of areas that others would think impossible.
