Physical Description

Diverging from the typically dull-colored aspect of a YNNX-2 Nekovalkyrja, Zelda Rose’s facial features are primarily distinguished by vibrant pink hair and eyes, gray alabaster skin of inhuman hue, and last but not least, aqua blue eyebrows and lips. Her eyes are lent a distinct, alien glow by their pink sclerae, light pink irises, and deep pink pupils. Pertaining more to the structure of her features, she has a V-shaped facial profile with slim cheeks, a defined jawline, and a pointed chin. These set a contrast against her softer features, including her plump lips, bug-like eyes, and small nose.

From here, her appearance falls more in line with that of a typical YNNX-2 Nekovalkyrja, though she is quite a bit shorter than average due to the fact that she is a smaller model optimized for piloting. She has pink-furred, Neko-style ears on both sides of her head. In addition, she has long, sharp claws on both her hands and feet, which she tends to paint with aqua or pink polish. Finally, she has very proportionally long limbs, especially pertaining to her legs, which make up no less than $\frac{2}{3}$ of her height.

Physically, Zelda’s form is thick and well-muscled owing to genetics and training. Her core strength is validated by a toned six-pack abdominal musculature. Her corpulent, yet muscular thighs are set under a pair of broad hips and large, steatopygian buttocks. Shifting upward, she has a modest bosom, narrow shoulders, and a relatively slender neck. However, her arms and upper back have no shortage of lithe muscle tone, exhibiting the prototypical image of feminine, Nekovalkyrja strength.

Personality

- Primal Zodiac Personality Reference: Ant
- Moe Archetype: Masodere

The ideal, prototypical soldier, Zelda Rose is fanatical, slavish, and hard-working even by the standards of the YNNX. She has little in the way of ambition, seeking only to serve and be useful to the YNNX out of a sense of obligation to the YNNX and devotion to Empress Michiru. In essence, the thing that she fears most is the idea of taking out more than she puts in, even if only on a temporary basis. For this reason, she hates being attended to, potentially even if injured or disabled. However, this doesn't prevent her from accepting help or offers of advice, especially if she knows that it will make her be more efficient and effective later on. In fact, she has great respect for her teachers and superiors, but ultimately, she is driven by the desire to be recognized for her skill and talent as a soldier in her given field.

History

Zelda Rose is a YNNX-2 Nekoalkyrja of unremarkable origins, having been synthesized in a vat and indoctrinated into the YNNX state ideology like virtually all of her sisters. However, as a 'reduced size' pilot model YNNX-2, her goal was to become an power armor or light mecha pilot, something which she would have been able to achieve had she passed aptitude tests needed to qualify for advanced training in these occupations.

Unfortunately, she failed both of them.

Instead, Zelda Rose was relegated to the ground units, where she faced the prospect of a short, dangerous, and dirty life in the trenches. However, like most pilot caste rejects, Zelda was funneled into airbike rider training, and as such, she was put on track to join the cavalry squads.

Upon the completion of her training, she was assigned to an elite mechanized platoon, where she would be given perhaps her last opportunity to prove her worth as a soldier or die in the attempt.
