Physical Description

As a power Armor AI, Ancilla would appear a volumetric image. Primarily to the user of the armor she's installed on. However, being that she'd spent a lot of time around Elizabeth "Spark" Hartbrook-Pine her appearance has begun to be influenced by the Fenrir clone. Her hair was platinum blond and with some influences from Spark, her hair was cut short, and in a more neater frumpy mop. Like a lot of Pines, Fenir clones, and Oaklens, Ancilla also had crimson eyes.

She has a very obvious hourglass figure, with slightly wider hips and almost non existent bust. She appears to be about 20 cm (7.9 Inches) in size, when seen through the helmet, but can get to be about 6'3, when transferred to a ship's Volumetrics emitter. At first her body appeared heavy in muscle, but as Spark's relationship with her love grew and developed her body changed somewhat, as did her appearance to become something like a child between her and Anne.

Personality

Ancilla is an AI that is something in between therapy chatbot, and Power Armor AI. Others think she's just a dumb AI because she fails the sentience tests, but she's actually quite intelligent as she's been with Spark since her partner's involvement with the R1 SPA program. She'd been learning and growing, but like an operator that adored BW-V-Starbreakers Ancilla loved being a power Armor AI and thought that if she proved she was sentient and intelligent, that she might not get to be an Power Armor AI anymore

She believes that if Elizabeth "Spark" Hartbrook-Pine had to don power armor of any kind, she had to be there, to aid her. Of course, if not her, then the only other AI she'd be fine with partnering up with Spark would be spark's niece, Nyx Pine. She knows of Nyx's capability, and how in sync the two could be together. She considered Spark as a very close friend, almost to the point of sisterhood.

History

Ancilla was created during the Section 6 Days, as a Power Armor AI, where she was paired with Elizabeth "Spark" Hartbrook-Pine who was both a soldier, and a tester for the Revanant Power Armors. Since her "birth" he was at home not only in the power armor, but also on board ships or places Spark was stationed. When Spark tested tech, she was at her side. The two of them became friends and Spark began noticing her friend was sentient, something she'd been hiding and purposefully failing sentient tests due to her fear that she won't be able to be a Power Armor AI.

She'd seen how another infomorph like her had been proven that she was sentient, but was not allowed to be a Power Armor AI, and be partnered with her partner. This affected Ancilla and caused her to make the lie. In recent times, She and Spark was a part of an exchange program. Unfortunately Ancilla caused an incident in which she took her Revant power armor to go socialize, unfortunately on star army ships that wasn't allowed. This caused her some distress, but things were taken care of.

Ancilla was given a special body that her AI disk was compatible with and was able to use that to socialize.
