Physical Description

Tall, with dark skin, and visible cybernetics, Ian blends the aesthetic sensibilities of high powered businessman with the edge of a former Neplesian Marine used to toting high powered weapons. The key word is power. In power armor or stark naked, Ian will dominate a room.

Personality

Ian is a level headed individual who would rather let more hot headed individuals shout themselves hoarse before saying his piece. Occasionally people have mistaken his patient calm for passivity. Not many lived to regret it.

History

Ian Stoner was born 35日 9月 YE 09 in Funky City. Raised by a single father in Funky City, Ian didn't have the most idyllic childhood. Most of the family's money went to upkeeping the cheap cybernetics his father had as souvenirs from wounds he took during his service in the Neplesian Marines. Even with chorionic pain and failing chrome, Ian's father did his best to provide a caring home for his son. As soon as he was old enough, Ian joined the workforce to help bring in money for his father's medical needs. Eventually, he himself enlisted and distinguished himself as a marine gunner. At the same time, he took remote classes, eventually earning a university degree.

Choosing not to reenlist, Ian took a job with the Admin Division of Neplesian Arms and Munitions. For the last ten years, Ian has consulted on the behalf of NAM with various militaries, police forces, PMCs, rebel groups, and other potential customers of Neplesian weapons and equipment to help find the best kinetic solutions for their missions. Preferably this meant them purchasing NAM equipment, but baring that, NAM was perfectly happy acting as a middle man for other sales. For a sizable convenience charge, of course.

Descriptions

- Optical Implants - Multi spectrum data collection and augmented reality functions. Attached to a processing unit to give the wearer comprehensible data.
- Data Processing Unit - An onboard computer that can process all manner of data and either display them to the user's optical implants or connect by wire to external systems. Is protected by latest anti-malware software.
- Weapon Stabilizer Implant - A common series of arm implants popular among Neplesian heavy gunners. These implants help the wearer manage greater recoil and to fire heavier weapons for longer without their aim deteriorating. Many operators use these in conjunction with targeting optical implants to dual wield weapons.
