Physical Characteristics

- Height: 1.7 meters
- Mass: 90 kg
- Measurements:

Build and Skin Color: Very wirey and lanky, an extremely pale sort with a very wide reach, and long lean muscles.

Eyes and Facial Features: genetically modified eye color to resemble a fuschia magenta mix. Very sharp facial features with no rounded edges, but a soft complexion looking as if the face had never seen hard work before.

Ears: Very long thin ears.

Hair Color and Style: Hair has been altered to as well match the same shade of fuschia and magenta as the eyes. Very messy and long going to about chin length yet so scraggly its usually up in the air coming down to his ears.

Distinguishing Features: Jackson has multiple tattoos, all consisting of written word. Ranging from single words or phrases, some even encrypted, the tattoos hold multiple meanings to the ideal of never giving up and thoughts or expressions on how bad things never ruin good things.

Psychological Characteristics

Personality: Most would describe Jackson as a very average person, calm demeanor, with few characteristics that stand out. A sort of jack of all trades master of none type who could easily blend into a crowd and be forgotten. Those who know him better understand that despite being a tad dry and dull there is an underlying sarcasm to Jackson that often leads to humorous exchanges. Even in situations that he expresses passion in a topic, event, or interest it is said in a very dry boring tone with little body language. He is often times quiet but when he starts on a dry toned rant its hard to get him to stop. Jackson is a devout Vegan.

- Likes: Food and cooking/baking, Books lots and lots of books, and any form of learning in general no matter the topic.
- Dislikes: Any form of generalization or racism, Religion, loud music.
- Goals: Advancing in the medical field and ranks of the military for personal reasons, and to help disprove misconceptions about his race.

History

Family (or Creators)

Father Reginald FireStride, mother Mariah FireStride. One younger brother Atrium FireStride.

Pre-RP

Jackson grew up in a average setting for a Nepleslian, not the poorest childhood but not born into a family with power or money. During a chance encounter with a Yamataian weeks before his training at Funky City boot camp Jackson had a deep discussion concerning the fact that all Nepleslians are war driven and will never amount to anything but violence. This encounter motivated him through boot camp to specialize in a field that did not promote violence as much as fix the problems it caused. If not only to prove that all generalizations are false from the start, but also he hopes one day to become famous enough that the Yamataian he encountered will have to eat his words.

Skills

Communication

Languages spoken : Nepleslian Jackson has an average proficiency in communication including radio contact and all standard communication gear learned at boot camp. Despite average abilities withing the technology of communication itself Jackson excelled at the art of cryptography and continually improves upon his ability to encrypt messages.

Survival

Jackson having a working knowledge of botany and biology found a niche in the survival portion of boot camp identifying edible and useful plants and fauna. He is moderately capable at navigation and fire building.

Strategy(Tactics & Discipline)

Due to his motivation to succeed within the military Jackson although not gifted in the areas of strategy development is a disciplined soldier to a fault. Learning in boot camp that all missions are more successful when orders are followed as closely as possible and that all laws and rules have reasons behind them.

Fighting and Physical

Aside from the required weapons and armor training Jackson exceled at hand to hand combat aided by his long reach and focusing on workouts that supported a strong core. Jacksons physical training is focused more on cardio than muscle building and in close combat he is more eager to outlast or wear out opponents instead of over powering them.

Specialty: Marine Doctor

After struggling through Medic training and pushing through the rigors of anatomy Jackson advanced through Nepleslia Prime Medical School and became a certified doctor specializing in pain reduction and management.

Humanities

As a minor focus in medical school Jackson studied psychology and general human behavior. Believing this to be as crucial to understanding pain and helping to manage it as the medicine itself this is a subject he advanced in quickly, and thusly seem to have a good sense of reading people.

Domestic

Having to aid in raising his brother Atrium Jackson is very skilled in general household needs and doesnt seem to mind doing them at all. Including doing laundry, cooking and baking, and general care and cleaning abilities. He also having raised his brother mostly himself seems to have a knack for dealing with kids on their level.
