Physical Description

Aika is 5'3" and has a slender, fit, and slightly hourglass shaped body. She has light, sky blue skin, and her eyes are hazel with a round shape, and framed with eyeliner and dark purple eyeshadow that she applies daily. Her ears and tail have a dark purple fur on them that matches her dark purple, waist length hair that she generally keeps braided down her back, only small wisps floating out to frame her face. She has no tattoos due to her body's ability to quickly heal, but she was born with a scar-like birthmark that runs over one shoulder, from her collar bone over her should down to her mid back. She loves the mark, wearing shirts that hang off the shoulder whenever possible to show it off, as she feels like it makes her feel tough. Though she can be self concious about it other times, especially in the presence of someone she wants to like her or that intimidates her. Her face is young looking and almost childlike, no visible evidence she's a badass.

Personality

Aika is someone special for sure. She is outgoing, some would even say cheerful, though she would protest against that. She's not one to conform to a mold. While she'll follow rules and guidelines, she isn't one to have her morals influenced by others easily. She is, however, quite naive, therefore as long as she didn't know you were doing it I suppose it would be quite easy to influence or manipulate her. Aika is not one to give up easily. She works until the job is done, and then keeps working. She doesn't scare easily, and doesn't shy away from danger, even often having the urge to rush headfirst into a situation instead of waiting and thinking ahead. On that note, she does most things before thinking, and has the stubbornness to stick to whatever decision she made. She trusts with her whole heart, and is surprised every time she's let down or betrayed, and still has not yet learned to guard her heart more. She thinks all people are deserving of a kind word, unless they specifically have done something to make her think otherwise. Though Aika is in the Star Army now, she hopes to serve her time and then be free to live her own life. Maybe start a family, or something entirely different, she's not sure yet, but hopes to explore and find out more about herself along the way. Aika has always been someone who is curious about what's out there. That's one thing that helps make her time in the Start Army more tolerable, is that it gives her a chance to explore, and learn about new cultures. When a particular culture fascinates her she learns everything she can about it, even going so far as to learn their language.
