- Build and Skin Color: Cassandra has a smaller yet still somewhat curvacious build, and has lighter-toned Caucasian skin.

Eyes and Facial Features: Cassandra's eyes fall on the more Nordic scale, being somewhat larger and rounder than the common Yamataian-looking Neko. They are blue in color, with some flecks and stripes of grey in them. Her face is also more Nordic than Typical Yamataian, being more of a rounded shape than the pointier heart-shaped face typically seen.

Psychological Characteristics

Personality: Cassandra has what might be considered a normal personality for a Nekovalkyrja, that is, she is generally polite, kind, and dutiful. However, when with close friends, peers, and subordinates, her attitude is a bit more mischievous, and she is prone to doing things because she 'feels like it'.

- Likes: Hard candy, Fish, the Daisy Power Armor
- Dislikes: gummies, poorly cooked fish.
- Goals: To live out her contract without dying.

History

Family (or Creators)

Cassandra's only family is her squad. She was born in a PNU-Gen cloning center, and trained with a batch of other Neko whom she has since lost contact with.

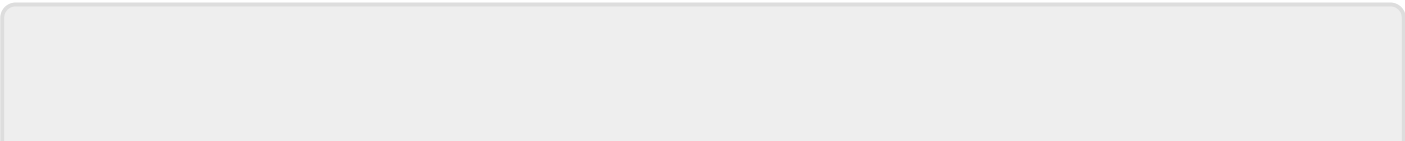

Pre-RP

Cassandra was a typical infantry soldier who merely lived long enough to become in charge of a squad. She does not have a spectacular service record, or a horrible one, either. after training, and being assigned to several different units, she was eventually pigeonholed as a squad commander in the Fifth Fleet, where she spent two years not doing much more than 'providing security' for the largely safe Pisces station.

Skills

Cassandra is a Power Armor Squad commanding officer. she has been trained in all the necessary basic skills a neko must know, as well as a few leadership courses; enough to allow her to fulfill her position properly. She is well versed in power armor usage, and mildly versed in maintenance. As a Nekovalkyrja, she is skilled at fighting in general, although she seems to specialize in nothing. She prefers to use a Service rifle over a specialized weapon as it is useful in a broader range of situations.
