Preferred Plots:

Physical Characteristics

- Height: 5'4

- Mass: 100 lbs
- Measurements: 36A-22-35

Build and Skin Color: Creamy white skin, lithe frame toned from recently having picked up working out with other crew members.

Eyes and Facial Features: A cute heart-shaped face with deep blue eyes with flecks of brown in them, like pebbles in the bottom of a river

Ears: Standard Nekovalkyrja ears with a bit of a tuft on the ends of each. Same color as her hair.

Hair Color and Style: Pink hair done into a delicate french braid which she put in every morning. Out of the braid, the hair reaches well down to the middle of her back.

Distinguishing Features: Her eyes.

Psychological Characteristics

Personality: Slightly airheadish, it takes her a few moments sometimes to understand things. She seemed rather naive as well, not truly knowing or understanding some things that happen around her. She seems completely oblivious to love, and has this oddly irritating way of smiling when she is treating someone. When treating injured people, she oddly enough becomes dominative, another personality kicking in that causes her to take control. She is also somewhat of a clean freak.

- Likes: Medical Bays, the smell of freshly opened medical tools, ice cream, Sterile areas, video games, baking.
- Dislikes: Drinking, People doing stuff that hurts them, unsterile environments.
- Goals: To save as many people as possible with her skills.

Pre-RP

Saya's life had a few exciting points, more to the point field work during her training in order to aid the already stretched thin resources of medics. In the last few battle she had been a little more than a medic's aid, helping them to carry supplies or the injured ones about.

Since her release from basic training, she has been working simply at the star bases that were acting as refuge bases for those that had lost their ships or bases, giving aid to the injured both mentally and physically.

Saya was eventually placed on the YSS Asamoya in a medical and doctor role, aiding those that needed it through the few missions they ran. When the rest of the crew left for the UOC, Saya stayed behind with the Empire, and soon took a roll in the Kyoto Military Hospital, treating those cases that needed intensive care away from the front lines. She has been on call as a doctor since then in the Hospital, treating and living her quiet life as well as she could, though always wishing she could get back out to the front lines to help and stop the injuries that were sent her way.

Since then, Saya has recently been transferred to the YSS Sakishima. After a short stint on the Sakishima, Saya was transferred back to make a round of the hospitals, acting as a doctor to aid the injured.

Feeling the call to space again and to get back onto the front lines, Saya reenlisted, requesting a ship based posting this time around where she found herself aboard the Kaiyō

Aboard the Kaiyō during her first mission she was quickly pressed into service in a suit as she followed along with an away team in a sneak attack/capture mission against a fleet from an alternate universe. During the mission, she helped to board and damage the IYS Empire while a separate team made their way to capture a VIP hostage, and after she helped to set up a potential booby trap, detonated the trap and fled back to the ship where they readied for their next assignment.

Skills

Fighting

Saya received hand-to-hand combat training, followed up with a rigorous training program. She is skilled and experienced in combat both in Yamatai-like conditions and in zero-gravity, with and without weapons. Weapons she is trained in include energy pistols, knives, and power armor. While she is trained, she is no where near good enough to be considered for a place in battle, and most of the time actually disdains from battle.

Communication

Saya is familiar with basic radio operation and procedures and can make transmissions to and receive transmissions from other characters through headsets, starships, power armor, and shuttles in both combat and non-combat conditions. She is fluent in English and Japanese. She can speak and write both correctly and efficiently and can write reports, fill forms, issue orders under fire, etc.

Technology Operations

Saya is capable of operating any computer system that uses the Kessaku OS, found on all Star Army starships. She is proficient in entering and/or searching for information.

Mathematics

Saya has received basic mathematics training, to including up to algebra and trigonometry.

Medical and Science

Being the field she occupies, Saya has been trained extensively in both complex as well as field surgery, able to patch up a injury or help to diagnose and transport a injured combatant to where she can work. She has learned a good deal in matters of medicine, surgery, pathology and cybernetic installations. During her time planet side and aboard stations, Saya also learned a good bit of bedside manner to help with the mental recovery of patients as well, becoming fairly empathetic towards injured patients and trying to lessen the onset of PTSD within those that were recovering.

Biology

With a ever growing curiosity, Saya enjoys learning about new animals, plants and being all the time, thinking it a better way to pass her time rather than scrubbing the floors all the time.

Chemistry

Ever the one to grow bored, Saya had also taken up chemistry in order to pass her time. She figured that if she were to create a all powerful disinfectant, then maybe she could clean even Nepleslia one day. To this end she has taken up Chemistry to tinker with the chemicals that would be needed.
