Pre-RP

His mother was a sword trainer so she taught him how to fight with a sword so he has advanced knowledge on it, he started at five(not that good since he was still a kid) but he got a lot better as he was around ten and one of the best for his age. His Father was a normal infantry minkan just as Jace has always wanted to join to make his dad happy even if his dad didn't want that his dad never said it. When Jace was 13 he got a A.I dog named Rex he got him from someone who was wanting to rip them off so his dad taught Jace how to hack past the lock the buyer put on it and Jace had to reprogram it with his dads help. If his parents were not home out on a mission he went to his parents friends house Ryan who he called uncle even though they aren't related. Ryan owned a restaurant and he helped work there so Jace learned a lot about cooking. When Jace was old enough he enlisted as he still thought that it would make his father happy. His parents both died when he was seventeen as they were both in service on the same ship but he doesn't know how it quite happened as its all classified since they were on a secret mission.
