History

Family (or Creators)/ Pre-RP

Elina creators were a group of academics at the Academy of Science and Medicine, playing around with Nekoalkyrja genetics and other bio-nano. She is missing a lot of Military Application that went along with the Military Grade NH-33 series. They gave her a lot of social skills to be entertaining and fun to be around. They had fun creating her for a school project. She became their "younger sister/daughter" They named her using their first initials of their names. Elina Joitto (Elina, Larry, Indigo, Nokura, Arlene / Julia, Osker, Iniko, Thomas, Tonaka, Olivia)

=Classified*= SAINT needed an outsider that couldn't be found out by the others in the department, Several Senior SAINT commanders needed someone they could use as a courier to transport their messages that they couldn't communicate by regular channels nor agents already in their employ, also to spy on several Org Crime Bosses in public. They sponsored one of the students to make her. She was perfect under the guise as an Entertainer. They lost her while investigating a NMX spy ring that allowed the NMX to smash into Yamatia space for the second time. They wanted her back with the information on who was the traitor to the Yamatia, and other Star empires. Her last drop message was that she knew the names of the Yamatia Traitors before she disappeared...Classified ends*

Elina came from a war torn world on a refugee ship NMX captured and used to invade a moon that the NMX invaded and took control of it. Even though the NMX had captured the moon and its outlying bubble domes, had pretty much left the Refugees and the Miners and their families alone to survive as the best they could. She lived by her wits and skills as an entertainer. Spy for those in power within the refugees compound. She stole when it came to self survival and a very good chance of getting away with it.

She took over the bases short range radio station (Max range was from the moon base to the edge of the system, centered on the moon.) She still holds the names of the Yamataians V.I.P's that conspired with the NMX. Once a week she would turn on the radio and transmit her SAINT coded songs, hoping for a response, using that method of encryption that a select few SAINT operatives, plus her handler, knew. An off chance, one of her transmission gotten a response back...
