Physical Description

Miku's most notable features are the fact that she has fox ears and a puffy fox tail that match the purple color of her hair, with white at their tips that she personally sought out after she was created.

Her hair is kept loose whenever she's not working, but when she is she pulls it up into a ponytail.

Her eyes are a crimson red color with slitted black pupils.

She has an athletic build and has naturally brown, tanned skin. She stands at 5'1"(154cm) and weighs approximately 85 pounds(38.5kg). Her bust size is C.

Her voice is higher in pitch than most others.

Personality

Miku is an upbeat girl that likes to get her nose into everything that she can, and usually pays a price for it, since it means that she often times is prying into personal business. But this is simply due to the fact that she feels a lot of loyalty towards others and wants to help them in any way possible, even if it is with personal problems she has no business being a part of. But when she's not prying, she's actually quite enjoyable to be around, a real genki-gal. From conversations to games, she's always wanting to keep things interesting for all involved, especially herself. To this end, she hates being alone, and enjoys the company of at least one other person.

Goals: Miku's goals are to start up a business that produces and researches weapons for the Star Army. She also hopes to be the first to lay eyes on some of the unexplored reaches of the universe during her time in the Army.

Likes: The Prince of Pop (a soda drink with an authentic blend of 23 flavors, not to be confused with a famous musician by a similar moniker), transhumanism, video games, and salty snacks.

Dislikes: Being alone, men, alcohol, wide open spaces ex. public parks, wooded areas, etc., living off of other's charity.

History

Miku has completed her training and has been awaiting deployment for approximately 100 days. It is during this time that she personally sought out the adjustments to her body that have taken place.

During the course of her training, she enjoyed any aspect where she was around others. The socialization part of her training really appealed to her the most, which helped contribute to her adoration of any social interaction. During this phase of her training, she was often the focus of her peer's attention, and she felt like she had a duty to help entertain the rest of them, even throughout the rest of her training.

During her end of course field exercise, she became lost after a failure with her equipment. She was completely separated from anyone else, and had to spend three days alone in the wilds. Most of this time was spent in an open plain, where the sun was constantly beating down on her, she was reliant completely on the survival skills that she had learned throughout her training.

Luckily enough, she was able to find a small fox, and offering it up some of her meager food that she had been able to hunt, took him on as a temporary pet. During her journey, she spoke to it as if it were a human, giving it a name, trying to get it to play even the simplest of games with her, the loneliness getting to her mind too badly to really care that it couldn't understand her, but it helped her to not break completely.

The lack of any social interaction, and the lack of any rescue that was coming for her left her emotionally scarred, and from these experiences, she has always hated going out into the wilds, preferring more urban environments or enclosed spaces on ships.

Despite being lost, she managed to complete the test, and was able to signal for rescue after a week out on the field, but unfortunately had to leave her newfound pet behind. It was this extra time left out in the field during her test that resulted in her not being sent out on a deployment immediately, and was held back until the next wave of recruits to be sent out, and during that time, she was able to seek out a new set of ears and tail in honor of her lost pet.

Skills Learned

Communication: Miku is familiar with basic radio operation and procedures and can make transmissions to and receive transmissions from other characters through headsets, starships, power armor, and shuttles in both combat and non-combat conditions. Miku is fluent in Trade (language) and Yamataigo (邪馬台語). She can speak and write both correctly and efficiently and can write reports, fill forms, issue orders under fire, etc. As a Nekovalkyrja, Miku has skill with her body's natural wireless communication.

Fighting: Miku received hand-to-hand combat training, followed up with a rigorous training program. She is skilled and experienced in combat both in Yamatai-like conditions and in zero-gravity, with and without weapons. Weapons she is trained in include energy pistols, knives, and power armor.

Technology Operation: Miku is capable of operating any computer system that uses the Kessaku OS, found on all Star Army starships. She is proficient in entering and/or searching for information.

Mathematics: Miku has received basic mathematics training, to including up to algebra and trigonometry.

Survival and Military: Miku went through many simulations and training courses where her ability to find or make fresh water, hunt, build shelters, camouflage herself, and signal were all put to the test. She passed these with flying colors.

Medical and Science: Miku, in the free time that she was allotted, was able to train herself by the books in medicine and cybertechnology. With these skills, she learned more about the body and how to treat wounds, as well as cybertech, which is where her love for cybernetics comes into play. She loves the look of carbon fiber limbs instead of these limited hunks of flesh! She aspires to become more human than human. After her superiors saw her interest in the medical field, they put her through a Combat Life Saver course and now she has the book-smarts and the know-how to properly treat someone of even lethal wounds.

Entertainment: Always wanting to ensure that her comrades in arms aren't bored during downtime, Miku has taken to knowing quite a lot of games, namely those that include dice, recounting stories, and being able to dance quite well with her fellow Neko. Naturally, these abilities have given her an insight on how best to ensure that no one around her is ever bored, and she'll make an effort to get even wallflowers onto the floor enjoying themselves.
