Personality

Lynira is an ENTJ-A²⁾ personality type, which is both a benefit and a hinderance in her work. She is charasmatic, inspiring, energetic and a strategic thinker who tends to approach things in a level-headed manner. The weakness this gives her is intolerance to those who are seen as inconsiderate to others or their goals. She values more serious relationships, whether that be a relationship or friendship.

History

Lynira Aucari was born on Ayenee in YE 16 to Unecaro and Aedaira. Her birth occured towards the end of Space Race and the Colonization of Ayenee. Tragically the warring with local factions took the life of her mother Aedaira at a young age. When resources were pulled from Ayenee her father Unecaro moved with her to Noria to live with family, as he still had military obligations to fulfill. Due to everything she experienced early on in her childhood Lynira became very well versed in adapting to whatever came her way. She also picked up that keeping a level head tended to help in most chaotic situations.

When the Umarian Wars kicked off her father had to leave her to be raised by her grandparents Nihelio and Gaerra. Even though her father kept in contact with her often as possible, she still suffered a bout of depression. Nihelio and Gaerra did everything they could to help their saddened granddaughter who was still suffering from the loss of her mother. Her grandfather Nihelio was a Norian diplomat who took Lynira under his wing to show her the ins and outs of diplomacy and she took to it with a quickness. While all of this went down her grandmother taught her several other coping mechanisms that helped her to deal with things such as 🧘 martial arts, 🧶 knitting, and 🧶 crochet. These new hobbies taught by her grandmother helped bring her back to a balanced happiness, while her grandfather's teachings helped shape her future career path. At the end of the Umarian Wars she was informed that her father had passed. She became rather withdrawn for a period of time, now having lost both parents.

While the Void Wars were still in their infancy Lynira began her formal education in 🧠 diplomacy and 🧠 political science. This was in part to help keep her mind off things, but also due to her passion to pursue a career field that would bring honor to what remained of her family. She thrived in her studies making many social connections during that time. Although not all the friendships turned out well, it did teach her an important lesson. It taught her 🧠 loyalty to those she held dear, as she came to know first hand the damage disloyalty could do in any relationship.

In the middle of the Craethel War and the Declaration of Null her studies wrapped up rather chaotically due to the ongoing events. Before formal entry into the diplomatic service she along with others also entering the field she had a personal back up of herself made. Formal entry into the diplomatic service as a civilian was more chaotic than most others had been due to the events of her first two years. Her first two years as a diplomat were the last two years of the Craethel War and the Declaration of Null. While the war raged on she helped further the goals of Tetsuya Eitan \(Airwin Caeyara\) and his visions of Tsenlan. Along with many others she was ushered onto the arks to flee following the death of Empress Sinith Caeyara. Her grandparents did not survive the grim events of that day, leaving her on her own.

Upon Norian arrival in the Kikyo Sector near Xylar she became part of Tetsuya Eitan \(Airwin Caeyara\)'s diplomatic team in building relations with their saviors. Very quickly she picked up most customs and courtesies associated with the culture of those that saved them. Along this journey she picked up the local language Yamataigo \(邪馬台語\). Even though she had been mostly land based during this time, she did volunteer to serve as a diplomatic representative should anyone petition to have a Norian representative onboard.

After the events of the YE 44 holiday party she was summoned to the office of Aestaesys Tetsuya Eitan \(Airwin Caeyara\) for a very important meeting regarding the events occurring on Ayenee. During this meeting the Aestaesys offered her a position on his personal staff that she gladly accepted. Immediately after the meeting concluded she packed up her possessions and relocated to Saleloria. Several months of working directly for the Aestaesys Tetsuya Eitan \(Airwin Caeyara\) flew by in what seemed like mere days. The work while fulfilling, kept her quite busy most of YE 45.

In the latter half of YE 45 she attended several lively social events mingling amongst the crowds. After one of them she met up with Tetsuya Eitan \(Airwin Caeyara\) and Cheol Eitan for a drink before the two aforementioned men would split ways. Inquiry as to where she would land with the Sol'Aestaesys Tetsuya leaving for the United Norian Imperium lead to an offer for her to remain under his employ. Once more she immediately packed up her belongings to accompany him, albeit a little further than their last journey. While in quarantine she participated in a meeting with Tetsuya and Katara where her new position as the Sol'Aestaesys' Imperial Diplomatic Advisor was clarified prior to handling an emergent issue.
