Basic Background

Born during the last days of the Miharu's construction, Mara has been apart of the Miharu's contingent of sprites since the first day the crew stepped onboard. Mara has been helping out with bridge duties and also served in the Meng Po raid as a Mindy pilot, though she nearly died in that particular operation.

Miscellaneous Info

Personality Quirks

Mara has youthful exuberance tempered with her being the eldest sprite on the Miharu and effectively stands as representative for all the sprites of the ship and is, after a fashion, also the Miharu's avatar. Mara is hardworking and fiercely protective of her crew, and even more so once she was shown that they appreciated her back after nearly dying when she shielded Saito Miyoko from enemy fire with her own power armor in the Meng Po's capture. Usually lighthearted and often exhibiting flippant humor, Mara is the most sociable sprite on board and while she does consider herself in the service of the Miharu's crew, she rarely ever shows servile tendencies and behaves as if she was the equal on any other enlisted crewmember.

She's quite close to Hinoto, the sprite avatar of the Hoshi, and while she enjoys teasing her meek and timid sistershe also makes an effort to look out for her - she knows that Hinoto has patience and insight to balance her own confidance and forthrightness. She bears a biased dislike to the custodian android Sigurd because he is not a KFY product, though to her consternation the android has always proven himself competent and unflappable to when she teases him.
