Physical Description

Standing at 145cm and weighing 50kg, Ingrid is on the lower end of the spectrum her species can be. Her brown-black hair and brown eyes complement her semi-petite hourglass figure. She keeps her hair long to be tied up into a bun and has bangs above her eyebrows.

Personality

While most Nekovalkyrja are known to be fun-loving and the life of a party, Ingrid is the polar opposite. While she can certainly be expressive and laugh at other things, she is highly unwilling to engage in such behavior. She prefers limiting the amount of talking she is required and prefers working to the point of stressing herself out than relaxing. It has been pointed out by others (which she often ignores) that the reason she is so stressed is due to her work ethic.

A nickname for her is the “Rules Devil” due to her ability to point out violations of minute regulations and find loopholes for herself.

History

Mizumitsu Ingrid was born 20日 4月 32年 on Nataria shortly after the mishap that “converted” her father to being fully Yamataian. She experienced an accelerated childhood due to the rapid speed nekovalkyrja experience. This is done to ensure replacements are quick to arrive to the battlefield, but it was a pain for her father to try to instill his customs and traditions to the child. As such he had to resort to rather extreme parenting methods while she was still under his supervision. The end result was a perfectionist that expects it from others and always finds ways to ensure it.

She was one of the first trainees of the School of Advanced Infantry Combat in YE 39. Being an admin clerk, she did not immediately decide to be assigned to the first Giretsu Century, the Giretsu Century of the 2nd Legion. She instead chose to be assigned to wherever she believed she cause the most good to appease her father.

During one of these assignments, she met Mikael Harris while both were on shore leave. The pair surprisingly hit it off almost immediately while they spent the majority of their leave together. The end result would be Mizumitsu Hiroshiko. She had expected Mikael to be in the youngling's life in some way, but from her perspective when he was sent to another universe she interpreted the unanswered communications as him rejecting both her and the child.

She was not overly bitter about it, but it certainly did put her in a bad mood. She ended up employing much of the same parenting tactics her father once did as a result. The pair were reunited in YE 42 when she was assigned to the newly formed Giretsu Century of the 75th Legion and the now Chui Harris was assigned as its replacement centurion. The reunion was not a happy one for obvious reasons, but the pair have since patched over most of the issues to be friendly with each other again. On the promise that Mikael will not keep her out of the loop, no matter how crazy his stories might be.

Ingrid currently found herself working for Star Army Personnel Command again since the G/75 was disbanded in YE 43. In YE 45, she was assigned to Shimura Grace as the Shosho's personal clerk. Both her father and Grace have attempted to convince her to undergo officer training due to her extensive knowledge in admin work, but she has thus far resisted as the SAoY does not have officer slots compatible with admin work. She has thought about entering the legal system as a lawyer though.
