History

Yoshiko Nakahara was born in YE 18 in the city of Kyoto, and has lived there for most of her life. She has lived in a small apartment for most of her life, but enjoys walking around Kyoto and exploring new locations, due to her constant thirst for adventure, unlike her other two relatives, who tended to stay more at home.

Most of her childhood was actually spent doing exactly that. She explored everywhere she could, and gained a lot of attention in school for poking around in places she probably shouldn't have been. She most notably discovered where the teachers kept the candy in Junior High, and almost got expelled for it.

In high-school she got much more mature in nature, toning down on her constant poking around, but still poking around a lot more than the normal person. Around this time, she had managed to take two classes for using firearms, which was something she loved a lot.

Shortly after graduating high-school, she just hung around her house and stayed with her family, learning some things at home for careers and whatnot, so she learned a little bit in everything, including the things a mechanic would do, and the things a maid would do. She also got much closer to her two younger relatives.

Upon the realization she wanted to do a bit more for her country, she decided to enlist in the Star Army of Yamatai. She had yet to take any training, but hopes she will do well.

Skills Learned

Nakaharo Yoshiko has the following notable skills:

- Fighting- Has learned some hand-to-hand combat techniques from her father, nothing too special. Has also learned to use smaller firearms quite well. Due to it being a major interest, could use more simplistic explosive weaponry.
- Physical- Has always been a very athletic person, usually running about Kyoto and exploring a lot. She's also done a lot of exercise, typically exercising an hour or two every morning. She's an excellent swimmer, and tends to usually spend an hour or two swimming every week.
- Maintenance and Repair- Has learned to maintain and repair engines and other vehicles from her father, who is a mechanic. She has learned very little on the topic, however, so she shouldn't be trusted with the task except for possibly a last resort.
- Domestic- Has learned many house-keeping things from her mother, who is a maid. She has learned how to take care of children (Her own younger relatives), learned how to cook smaller meals and clean somewhat decently. However, she prefers to be up and moving rather than be settled down for a long period of time with a family.
