Character Description

Physical Appearance

Though born as a nekovalkyrja, Shizuko has undergone a soul transfer to a NH-31F Minkan type body in order to increase the believability of her cover-story whilst assigned to the YSS Byakuren. Shizuko has a fairly athletic build, a feminine hourglass figure, and stands taller than is average for most nekovalkyrja at a height of 5'4". She has fairly pale, cream-colored skin and her eyes are a verdant emerald-green, shaped like almonds, such as is the case for most neko and yamataians. Her facial features could be considered fairly beautiful and attractive, and she appears to be in her early twenties in terms of physical age. Shizuko also possesses jet-black hair that is typically cut short, ending around neck-length.

Personality

Shizuko's normal behaviour is fairly quiet, contemplative and emotionally reserved when left to her own devices. However, thanks to her SAINT training she is able to adapt her social interactions with others to suit the situation at hand and better accomplish her personal goals and mission objectives – she can easily switch her apparent personality with a level of ease that most would find disturbing.

As is the case with similar SAINT operatives, it is difficult for normal individuals to see past the personality facade Shizuko concocts to find the true individual that lies hidden.

History

Pre-RP

Shizuko was manufactured in mid YE 31 and was later sent to Star Army basic training at the UX-13 Training Center \(Fort Ready II\). After basic training, Shizuko was then recruited by Star Army Intelligence and underwent the four-week SELECT ordeal. Afterwards she underwent the routine medical examination and received SAINT mental conditioning prior to her placement in the INDOC program. Once Shizuko completed the basic SAINT curriculum, she was reassigned to Fort Hanako for additional training as a reconnaissance fighter pilot in preparation for the deployment of the new V8 "Teisatsu" recon fighters which began to be fielded by SAINT in YE 32.

After the completion of her pilot training Shizuko was assigned to the 32nd "Pale Wraiths" reconnaissance fighter squadron attached to the 2XF Intelligence Support Group.

In YE 33 Shizuko was reassigned as an undercover field operative to monitor the ongoing collapse of the United Outer Colonies as they succumbed to continuous attacks from the NMX. After her return to Yamataian space, Shizuko was promoted to Nitô Hei. She was then reassigned to the YSS Youkai II.

In YE 45.3 she was promoted to Ittô Hei.

In Roleplay

Recently, Shizuko has been placed undercover aboard the Black Knights as a Logistics Specialist. Additionally, a false background in the Star Army has been fabricated to aid in the pursuit of her mission.

Skill Areas

Communications

Shizuko has been trained in the use of a wide variety of communications devices; including normal and advanced radio comms, direct-beam comms, hyperspace, subspace, tachyon and quantum communications. Her basic training was further supplemented by SAINT so that she could utilize inventive means of boosting or otherwise augmenting comms tech to bypass jamming for the purposes of relaying recon data during infiltration.

Additionally, due to her origins as a nekovalkyrja Shizuko is experienced in the use of the innate wireless and telepathic communication abilities possessed by her kind. She is also fluent in spoken and written Yamataian and Nepleslian, and is capable of utilizing both to perform tasks such as writing reports, fill out forms or issue orders etc.

Fighting

Shizuko has undergone training to prepare herself for combat both in Yamatai comparable conditions, as well as within zero-gravity environments, when either armed or unarmed.

Her weapons training includes the use of various pistol types, bladed weapons, power armor, in addition to the use of rifles for assassination and explosive devices for sabotage.

Technology Operation

Shizuko is fully capable of operating most any computer that makes use of the Kessaku OS, commonly found within Star Army starships. Her SAINT training has given her further skill in accessing and acquiring information within a wide range of computer operating systems utilized by both civilians agencies, other militaries, and both friendly and enemy around the Yamatai Star Empire.

Mathematics

Shizuko has received the standard array of mathematics training provided to Star Army personnel and is proficient in the use of algebra, trigonometry and the like.

Theatrics

Shizuko is a skilled actor and is able to assume roles with differing types of personalities with a disturbing level of ease, adapting her behaviour to suit a situation and best accomplish her goals

Psychology

In order to adequately perform undercover roles Shizuko has studied human psychology. She is able to intuit the basic motivations and reasoning of other individuals, which in turn better allows her to perform her tasks without being discovered.

Starship Operation

Due to her training and experience as a recon pilot, Shizuko is able to operate Star Army aerospace craft with considerable skill.
