Physical Characteristics

- Height: 1.63 M / 5'3".
- Mass: 68 Kg / 124 lbs.
- Measurements: 32C-25-36.

Build and Skin Color: Rain's figure is what some would refer to as a 'farm build'. Solid and a little broad over the shoulder, but with quite distinct and undeniably feminine curves. Her skin coloration can best be described as aqua blue.

Eyes and Facial Features: Rain possesses a pair of deep-set forest green eyes, set evenly apart on her well-rounded face, on either side of a cute button nose.

Like most of her batch-sisters, Rain possesses a fine jawline which ends in a smooth and nicely rounded chin, which compliments her heart-shaped face. In addition to this, she also possesses a full pair of lips that seem equally keen to stretch into a smile or purse up into a pout.

Ears: Not surprisingly, Rain's ears are, like most Nekovalkyrja, shaped like those of a cat, and covered in fuzzy, dark blue fur.

Hair Color and Style: Rain possesses a head full of dark, luscious, blue hair, which easily reaches down to her waist, and she often wears it in a tight braid while on duty.

Distinguishing Features: Solid but feminine build, heart-shaped face, aqua skin, long dark blue hair.

Psychological Characteristics

Personality: Ever since she was created in the facilities of the Ketsurui Zaibatsu, there were a couple of notable personality traits that stood out in the young Neko. The first was her innate curiosity. She always wanted to learn, to explore, to see new things. Even the smallest and immaterial object, as long as it was new, could utterly captivate and fascinate the young Neko for hours on end.

The second trait was her instinctive desire, almost a need, to help others, be it her batch-sisters or the Ketsurui Zaibatsu technicians. If one of her sisters were upset or hurt themselves, Rain would always be there in an attempt to cheer them up or make them feel better.

She also possesses a mischievous streak a mile wide, and adores to play pranks on people, though she'll usually do her best to make them feel better should their feelings be hurt. Perhaps as a combination of her playful nature and her innate desire to explore new things and help others, Rain is an incurable flirt. Even if she knows she'll never actually "get anywhere" with a person, she'll still flirt in her playful manner, unless told such attention is unwanted.

History

Family (or Creators)

Ketsurui Zaibatsu. Alva Lenasdottir - Batch-sister. Lena Erklingsdottir - Chief Technician overseeing her batch.

Pre-RP

Like many Nekoalkyrja, Rain was created by the Ketsurui Zaibatsu, rather than conceived and born. She was instantly curious and wanted to explore the world around her from the moment she opened her eyes and possessed the ability to move about on her own. She was fascinated by just about anything that was new to her. Be it her batch sisters or a pen dropped by one of the technicians.

The moment in her childhood that stands out the most to her is the first time she experienced the weather phenomenon from which she took her name: Rain. Until that day, water had only been something she drank, or came from the faucets and taps, or in bottles. She had never even conceived of the possibility of water falling from the sky in countless tiny droplets, or the sound it'd make hitting the windows or the roof. She remembers just sitting there, staring out at the rainstorm, fascinated for what seemed like hours.

After socialization training, Rain was shipped off to Star Army training, where she immediately applied to become a medic, a task at which she excelled. She took to heart every lesson her instructors gave her, including those involving combat and how best to kill the enemies of Yamatai, no matter how much she might personally dislike having to take a life.

After her training, Nunagawa Rain now awaits her first posting, finally able to explore the stars and help her fellow soldiers...

Skills

Communication

Rain is a living, breathing, sentient creature, and as such, she's fully capable of communicating with those around her. She knows how to speak and write fluently in Trade and Yamataigo. As a graduate of the Star Army of Yamatai's training regimens, she is fully capable of using most standard issue Star Army equipment to communicate, how to fill out forms and reports, give and receive orders and intelligence under fire, etc. And as an Type-33 Nekoalkyrja, she's fully capable of communicating wirelessly.

Fighting

As much as she might dislike fighting and having to take a life, Rain is still a soldier within the Star Army of Yamatai, and as such, has undergone their rigorous training regimen, and is proficient in hand-to-hand combat, as well the use of energy pistols, knives, and power armour in both 1G and Zero-Gravity conditions.

Technology Operation

As a Star Army Medic, Rain knows how to operate most computers that run on the Kessau OS, and is proficient in entering and searching for information, as well as knowing how to use and operate most equipment and technology involved with the medical profession.

Mathematics

For anyone practicing medicine, basic mathematics, such as that taught to most Star Army soldiers, just doesn't cut it. As a result, Rain's mathematical skills far exceeds that of basic trigonometry and algebra, as countless medical situations requires precise calculations, such as how much anesthesia to give a patient as just one example.

Medical

As a Star Army Medic, Rain is fully trained in the use of most SAoY medical equipment, how to perform battlefield triage and treatment, perform regular physicals on most humanoid species serving in the Star Army, perform ST backups, handle the dead and perform autopsies. Thanks to her cross-training in biology and anatomy, she is capable of diagnosing and treating several illnesses, as well as certain surgical procedures.

Biology

During her training, Rain also picked up training in the biological sciences, particularly anatomy, genetics, virology, and xenobiology, in order to better help and treat her crew. The more knowledge she has, the better she can help others.

Rogue

Rain is an incurable prankster and flirt. This is fact.

As a result, she has gotten quite adept at sneaking around in order to prepare her practical jokes and gags, as well as spinning webs of harmless white lies in order to shift away suspicion, at least until her prank has been pulled off.

She has also gotten good at noticing whenever someone becomes flustered, and how to make people flustered. The right tone of voice when murmuring an otherwise innocuous phrase at just the right moment can have quite the effect. And Rain loves watching people become flustered.
