Physical Description

- Hair: Silver
- Eyes: Dark Orange-Red
- Skin: Light with yellow undertone
- Height: 144cm

- Weight: 85kg
- Build: Slim but athletic
- Body Measurements: 36G-23-34

Yingzi is a mixture of Lianjia Abd Bahadi, a Nepleslian Red genetic line, and core Lianjia. The result is a woman that leans more towards features similar to non-Nordic Yamataians. She is given a genetic template specifically designed by the Nepleslian Reds of Fujiko. As such instead of the dark brown eyes she normally would genetically express, she instead has dark orange-red eyes. It is accented with naturally silver hair she likes to keep up in various hairstyles.

Cybernetics

As one of the first test batches of a new type of Artificial Nepleslian (not naturally born), Yingzi has a number of cybernetics at release. She was granted four additional enhancements (as were the rest of her batch) due to their status as firsts.

- Zhenren I1G Genetic Supplement
- Zhenren I3N Myelin Enhancement
- Zhenren I3B Digestive Enhancement Microfauna
- Zhenren I1N Digital Mind
- Zhenren I2N Cortical Modem
- Advancer Iron Bone Enhancement
- Nanite enhanced lungs that help filter toxins and facilitate better gas exchange (longer endurance)
- Electro-active polymer-enhanced heart with cardiovascular system enforced with Durandium Mesh
- I10N-X Motor Skill Enhancer (increases the speed and precision of motor related skills)

Personality

The creation of the Project Lily's experiment of mixing personality templates, Yingzi is a mixture of their Enforcer and Mentor templates. Individuals that know Yingzi often describe her as a caring, bubbly, but deeply forced individual. But unlike most Enforcers, she knows how to pull out of it when someone is in need of help or mentoring.

Everything she does is done in a professional manner and she will fanatically do her best to pass on that trait in all those she has to be around long term. While she does her best to maintain her bubbly deposition, she not above releasing her inner rage if she deems as needed for the greater good (someone on the team risking the team as a whole).

- Likes: Figuring out new problems, mentoring young people, medicine
- Dislikes: Tricksters, lazy and unfocused people, xenophobic individuals

History

Radcliff Yingzi was born in YE 44 on the RKS Akiharu located in the Fujiko at the time. One of the first of a new generation of Clones created in a collaboration between the Nepleslian Research and Manufacturing and the Ryu Keiretsu. Her "life" of 21 years was experienced within 35 days on the ship.

"Childhood"

While grown in 35 days, Yingzi (along with all other clones of her batch) experienced a true childhood from their perspective thanks to a combination of drugs, cybernetics, and time-compressed virtual reality. From Yingzi's perspective, she was born on Fujiko within the city of Red Sands. Her mother was an private security consultant and her father was a former Red Star Army soldier.

Having a disagreement with her mother at an early age, she and her father moved to Tatiana to experience a life closer with the Yamataians. A combat medic, her father enrolled her into a school specializing in science and technology as well as teaching her his skills as a medic. When she was old enough, she was signed up into a special Kikyō Scouts program to further enhance her interest in the military side of life and interest in the Yamataians.

One notable event Yingzi remembers is when on a field trip, her bus had an accident. The adults were severely injured, leaving the children needing to fend figure out the situation as they crashed landed in the managed wilderness of the planet. Yingzi and another senior student were instrumental in saving the adults and helping all survive for the several weeks it took for authorities to locate them. The experience was a driving factor in her desire to serve in the Star Army of Yamatai.

She attended a science academy in deep learning where she earned a 4 year medical degree.

Pre-RP

Since her release from her vat, Yingzi has kept a low profile as she interns at a biixi clinic established on Fujiko in late YE 43. When the fighting broke out between elements of the Reds in the region, she went out of her way to establish a small aid station that took in the wounded from both sides of the conflict. One of the few medical facilities in the area she was in, the conflicting militias came to recognize it as neutral territory with one added rule: once you arrive you can never go back to fighting. There were more than one occasions where Yingzi had to physically manhandle patients that wanted to continue fighting.

All the more comical since the individuals also towered her. Assisting her was a wandering Elysian by the name of Athena Stamoules.

Skills Learned

Radcliff Yingzi has the following notable skills:

Biology

Yingzi is capable at flora and fauna identification, to include educated guesses about an unknown species's attributes and behaviors. As she studied in an undergrad medical program, she has a very advanced understanding of anatomy for humans and other common humanoids within the Kikyo Sector.

Chemistry

In university, Yingzi majored in an undergrad medical program. She has a good understanding of chemistry and knows what effects various drugs and chemical formulas have on common species within the Kikyo Sector. She is capable of creating new drugs and materials if given the time.

Communication

Yingzi is well-versed in speaking in Trade. She also has passing ability with Yamataigo. Due to writing technical papers during her university “years”, she is capable of explaining complex details in a manner that the common man won't get too confused in written form. She is also a capable public speaker.

Medical and Science

In university, Yingzi majored in an undergrad medical program she has a good understanding of pathology and basic understanding of medicine and (of course) cybernetics installation/maintenance. In addition to the advanced medical skills, she is also highly proficient with rendering first aid, emergency medicine, and triaging.

She is squeamish when it comes to surgery. Not because she dislike the sight of blood but because she does not have the confidence that she will only cut what is needed. Autopsies don't phase her at all.

Fighting

Given an experimental personality template within is a mixture of soldier and mentor, Yingzi received limited combat training during her formative “years”. She has familiarity with pistols due to the Nepleslian Reds love for the 10mm Covert Ops Pistol. She is also has basic hand to hand skills (kickboxing).

Survival and Military

Yingzi learned basic bushcraft from her time as a Virtual Kikyo Scout. She is capable of finding water, land navigation, shelter construction, hunting, signaling, camouflage; anything and everything wilderness and survival. She learned teamwork, small-unit wilderness maneuvering, reconnaissance, and patrol.

Technology Operations

Yingzi is proficient in the creation of software, firmware, and non-volitional “dumb” Als to help in her pathology research. She is proficient with SAoY tasks related to Technology Operations.
