Physical Description

¹⁾ Sakura stands at 5’6 with measurements 38c-28-32 and weighs around 60kg with toned muscles as a result of her intensive training lifestyle.

Her jet black hair hangs just below the collar in this style, protruding from her tousled hair are a pair of cat like ears covered in black fur on the outside matching her hair but white fur inside that contrasts her looks. Hidden beneath her fringe are two emerald green eyes with a mischievous look to them accompanied by her moderate lips often turned up in the left corner in a smirk.

Personality

Having undergone more social training than usual at personal request to assist her role of cook, Sakura understands the cognitive processes behind peoples decisions and is able to better read their actions.

Sakura holds herself with an air of confidence and has a tendency to come off as arrogant, she understands the chain of command valuing it above most other aspects including friendships and is as loyal as a robot in and out of combat. She knows her limits and will often overwork herself on purpose either to gain sympathy and attention or in dire situations.

History

Pre-RP

YE 38, As all neko are Sakura was born of a cloning tube and the first thing she ever felt was the sensation of weightlessness that comes with being suspended in a tube filled with hemosynth, after several days to get used to her body and being taught who she was and what she would be doing the neko was sent off to mandatory training.

Once completed Sakura tried out several of the aptitude tests and settled on one of the more domestic dutys, cooking. Taking extra socialization training at a personal request to help her gain more skills to better her ability as a cook as she would be talking to people quite often. As a result she will strike up a casual conversation during meals with the crew and has memorised all the usual dishes that the others enjoy.

For the whole of YE 39 Sakura remained stationed on a Yamataian military base where she continued to train herself physically and mentally, when the news of the YSS Hana having open spaces reached her, she'd already packed her bags and was sent off to join the ship leaving no friends nor memories behind.

In mid YE 40 Sakura was given a rare opportunity to leave the army early and pursue her dreams of becoming a cake bandit of the frontier world when she stumbled upon Donvan Black in a chance meeting on one of her scarce days off. With his various connections and charming nature it was eventually decided that with aid from his family's business her retirement fee would be paid for by them.

Eventually Sakura bumped into yet another strange character, Vinni Firebrand who just so happened to captain her own ship of scallywags. With her plans to become the greatest cake bandit temporarily sidelined the neko was all too happy to join the merry band.

By YE 44 Sakura had accomplished a great deal of cake making and perfected her own recipe (by her standards), but she missed the comraderie of the YSE and practically begged them to let her back in, whatever it took. As conditional re-entry Sakura was put through fighter pilot training and given an immediate assignment with the Frontier Skies.

Skills Learned

- Star Army Common Skills
- Culinary: Sakura's main occupation, she is able to make any dish, preferring healthy meals on and off assignment. She can cater to any personal needs and preferences as well.
- Street-Wise: Since leaving the army Sakura has had to find ways to fend for herself, and ended up figuring out that many a sad soul will pay well for a few drinks and laughs with a decent looking girl. On top of her money for good vibes business Sakura learned where to get the cheapest supplies and how to move around the outer systems via less than legal means.
- Fighter Piloting: After being allowed to rejoin the Star Army she was put through pilot training to fill some priority stations.
