Physical Characteristics

- Height: 150cm (4'9")
- Mass: 43kg (97lbs)
- Measurements: 30B-27W-35H

Build and Skin Color: Ayumi has a slight build. Her narrow shoulders and wider hips make her a slight pear shape. Besides her shape she's also thin, she has angular shapes to her bone structure, making her elbows slightly knobby and her shoulders curved up rather than down.

Despite her height most of her body is long or thin. She has a thin neck, and long feminine hands and fingers. Her arms and legs are also long and thin. The roundest part of her body is her hips.

She has soft light grey skin, with a dusting of dark grey freckles here and there over her body.

Eyes and Facial Features: Ayumi has wide almond shaped eyes of a dark violet colour. Her eyelashes are thick, but not long, and slightly curved at the ends. She has a permanent dark purple eye shadow dusted lightly over her eyes.

She has an angular face, her chin is rather pointed though not long. Even though her cheeks are round, her cheek bones protrude slightly under her eyes. Her jaw is sharp, but modest. She has a long forehead, but because it's always covered by bangs no one notices.

Ayumi's face is small, and tied together by her small nose. Her nose is thin and short, with a bridge that curves just under her eyes. It is rather short and thin. The tip of her nose is also short, but it's round as well.

Her nose is nestled just atop a set of small, yet pouty lips. Her top lip has definite shape to it, having two curves that meet in the middle. Her bottom is plump and round. Her mouth is thin.

Ears: This Neko's ears are cat shaped and covered with thick black fur. They're large, covering from her brows to her lips on the side of her head, and long, reaching out a good 7.6cm (3 inches) from her head.

Hair Color and Style: Ayumi has sleek, straight, black hair. Her hair is cut in a bob around her head, the length reaching to her shoulders. Her bangs are cut straight across her forehead, brushing the tops of her brows and hiding the majority of her forehead beneath them. The hair around her face is cut to the same length as the rest of her hair, so it doesn't stand out in any particular way.

She has rather thick hair as well, meaning she needs to brush her hair often to keep it untangled. When it gets tangled it gets frizzy, causing it to stand on end and look very messy.

Psychological Characteristics

Personality: Ayumi is quiet, and proper. She minds her manners, almost to a fault, and keeps most everything to herself. She doesn't speak unless she knows it is required of her in the situation. She keeps personal problems personal, and rarely even encounters issues because she is generally of a good mood.

Her personality has been described as “robotic”. The strongest emotion she shows is the slightest smile, usually out of embarrassment rather than happiness. She completes tasks quickly and accurately. She rarely shows any like or dislike towards people, remaining neutral in most opinions of others. Her silence makes it easier for her to read people's emotions and how they are reacting to situations

Despite her emotional distance she has an inborn need to take care of people, she wants people to be healthy and happy. She is an enthusiastic healer, taking great care when people are in her charge.

Ayumi seems to have a slight fear, or at least she is overly cautious, around new situations.

- Likes: slow music, strawberries, “happy colours”, rain,
- Dislikes: rudeness, broccoli, loud personalities, mining colonies
- Goals: To become a medical doctor and to save the lives of her crewmates.

Pre-RP

After a very short awakening Ayumi was quickly sent off for her formal training as well as socialisation with other Neko.

Initially the idea of socialisation was rather daunting, she didn't like the idea of being around people for long amounts of time. She was introduced to a rather loud and excitable Neko named Tsuki who, despite Ayumi's constant efforts to find someone else to spend time with, followed Ayumi around rather effectively for her entire training regiment. Even though Tsuki was never rude to Ayumi, Ayumi figures the hounding which she was put through was close enough, to be sure.

Ayumi came into her love for her medical training very quickly, finding that the calculations and care involved gave her a fulfilled feeling which very little else did. This, of course, was caused by her programming. She took to her training seamlessly, enjoying every minute of it aside from her socialisation.

Her dislike for socialisation made it so she never really met anyone of consequence, other than the persistent Tsuki. At first her overseers were concerned that her antisocial behaviour would affect her job assignment poorly, but as she excelled in her work this was proven incorrect.

She passed her training without much consequence and moved on to wait for her new job aboard a starship.

Pre adoption RP

YE 35: Assigned to Eucharis as a Medical Officer.

Encountered an uncharted planet, the Dream World.

Went on vacation with the Eucharis, had leave until new year of YE 36.

YE 36: Transferred from the Eucharis to UX-16 mining colony.

RP

YE 39: Transferred from UX-16 mining colony to YSS Aeon.

Skills

Communications

Because Ayumi is a Nekoalkyrja she is able to communicate wirelessly with other Nekos. She is also fluent in Nepleslian and Yamataian, not only an eloquent speaker but also a clear and concise writer.

While she prefers to communicate with people face to face she has been properly trained to accept orders and communicate through radio to members of her crew in order to keep them and herself safe on the battlefield.

Fighting

Though she detests it, Ayumi is trained in hand to hand a armed combat. She is capable of defending herself, though not capable of fighting more than one person at a time without hurting herself.

Her weapon of choice is a knife, though she can also use pistols.

Technology Operation

Whether or not it is because she herself is essentially a computer, Ayumi seems to have a gift with operating all sorts of technology be it Star Army computers or other computers she comes into contact with.

Mathematics

Ayumi is very good at math and various calculations. She is generally capable of completing these calculations in her mind rather than needing to write them out or use a calculator.

Medical

Ayumi has basic medical training already loaded into her OS. She is capable of dressing wounds, radioing for help, evaluating any casualties on the battle field, and creating a splint out of materials she can find around her.

Ayumi became an accomplished medic during her stay with a Yamatai mining colony and is adept at treating a myriad of wounds, diseases, and ailments known to be inflicted upon many of the races that are living under the Yamatai Star Empire.

She is very enthusiastic when it comes to her medical training and takes it equally as seriously.
