Height:	152cm (5'1")

Tsuru Suzue
Weight:	50kg (110lbs)
Organization:	Star Army Reserve
Occupation:	Star Army Technician
Rank:	Ittô Hei
Current Placement:	Fort Victory Reserve Center

Physical Characteristics

- Height: 152cm (5'1")
 - Mass: 50kg (110lbs)
 - Measurements:
- Build and Skin Color: Suz' is kinda stocky and has a lean build, strong but not too visibly muscular. She has dark skin with no markings save for her ID number.
- Eyes and Facial Features: Her eyes are a dark gold, almost brown. She has a slightly upturned button-nose.
- Ears: She has pointed fluffy ears that match her hair color and also fade red at the tip.
- Hair Color and Style: Her hair is shoulder length, naturally unsaturated purple, hombre style fade to technician red at the bottom. She keeps it loose and styles it mornings but tends not to upkeep it through the day and it can get messy from maintenance. She also wears it in a pony tail for physical training and whenever she is near rotating and fabrication equipment.
- Distinguishing Features: Those big menacing eyebrows. She also is one of the Nekovalkyrja with a tail, it has the same colors as her hair.

Psychological Characteristics

- Personality: Suzue is rarely serious and usually sarcastic. Forward and socially bold, she refers to her peers almost exclusively in insults. She is professional when she needs to be but as unprofessional as she can get away with when nobody important is watching. Her preferences in compatriots are people that can take her crap and occasionally sling it back. She is a big fan of making stuff up and lying for comedic purposes. She finds herself wittier than she actually is. Combat makes her a bit nervous but she can keep it together as long as she keeps her mind on the technical side of things.
- Likes: Creating things, piloting power armor, funky music, bullshitting, terrible movies.
 - Dislikes: Busy work, idiots breaking everything,
 - Goals: Complete the mission, whatever it is today, work on her creations, in the long term she wants to be a power armor designer.

History

Family (or Creators)

Ketsurui Zaibatsu

Pre-RP

Suzue was first assigned to the YSS Illustrious as part of it's shipbound maintenance team where she picked up a year of general maintenance experience for systems and thorough study of power armor with on-and-off shuttle and fighter repair. During that year she spent most of her off-time either watching terrible movies to kill time or religiously studying repair and operation manuals for power armor and ground vehicles. She also spent a lot of time learning about the fabrication area and it's operation. She has really cleaned up her military bearing and is striving to be assigned to a smaller ship to get more experience clocked in on power armor.

YSS Sakishima

Interlude 4

Suzue joined the crew of the YSS Sakishima on break and got to know her new crewmembers for a while before taking to doing oddjobs over the very long yard period. During this yard period she scraped the funds together to create the first prototype of "Toolbox," an automated part carrying and maintenance assistant drone.

Episode 5

Suzue supervised ship's maintenance systems and assisted the ship to get starborne for her first real mission on board. When the initial pick up turned into a rescue she was ordered planetside with the ground team as a field technician. She aided the team with her technical knowhow to fend off the ambush that awaited the crew by creating makeshift mines, repairing and repurposing the wrecked YSS Enshu's defenses, and setting off the Enshu's reactor, purging the battlefield of classified technology. Upon return to Leo Star Fortress she helped the crew fend off a traitorous attempt on their lives. In the resolution of the mission she was advanced to Itto Hei and awarded the Red Tessen.

Skills

Communications

Suzue is fluent in her programmed languages of Trade \(language\) and Yamataigo \(邪馬台語\). She knows the operations and nomenclature of common radios. She can read and produce blueprints very effectively.

Maintenance and Repair

She is versed in maintenance of most systems of technology. Her specialties in the field are around repair, calibration, and modification of power armor. She is also skilled in the repair of most wheeled vehicles with rudimentary study of mecha and hover vehicle systems.

Engineering

She is capable of envisioning new weapon systems and power armor refits. She keeps a huge sketchbook of blueprints she's compiled that she doesn't have funding to implement or present. She knows fabrication systems well enough to program new parts she has created or others have thought up.

Chemistry

She is a semi-competent chemist with her central studies in the subject of metallurgy. She can create complex high grade alloys with the use of most fabrications areas.

Fighting

She is trained in most weapon systems and is a very capable fighter with hand to hand and improvised weapons. She is extremely comfortable in power armor due to her frequent tinkering, repair, testing, and calibration of the systems.

Vehicles

She is quite learned in the piloting of vehicles including combat maneuvers and tactics. She knows ground combat vehicles extensively and is very capable of putting them to use.

Entertainment

She puts advanced techniques of over-acting to her comedic whims but is also versed in standard, non-terrible acting when her muse is feeling up to it. She can play the harmonica at a good but not quite mastery level.
