Physical Description

- Height: 1.83m (6'0")
- Mass: 63.5 kg (140lbs)
- Measurements: 33-27-37 30C

Build and Skin Color: Ulla's skin is pale with a faint purple undertone. She is tall and angular with toned muscles and narrow shoulders.

Eyes and Facial Features: Her round, close-set eyes possess amaranth/red irises. They are framed by constantly furrowed and gently arcing black eyebrows. Ulla has a long nose with a narrow bridge. It upturns ever so slightly and has moderately flared nostrils. The left side of her face has a small beauty mark on her cheekbone near the top of the levator labii superioris muscle. She has sharp cheekbones and a square jaw.

Ears: Ulla has elf-style ears that have a faint blush near the tips

Hair Color and Style: Her hair reaches her lower shoulder blades. it is a glossy teal/black that has faint iridescence in some lighting situations. She often has it pulled into a low bun so it is out of her way while she works.

Voice: Ulla's voice is a deeper contralto. It is regal and commanding, and in tense situations, it has a dangerously still edge to it.

Distinguishing Features: Ulla usually wears tiny silver screw-on stud earrings.

She also wears black metallic pince-nez glasses that are a modification of Star Army - Covert Operative Sunglasses - SACOS. The portions of components formerly in the arms of the sunglasses have been moved into the glasses' cord and fastener. She usually keeps them transparent for a more professional look.

When she does wear lipstick, it is a deep burgundy wine lip stain or some other muted dark tone.

Her signature choice of perfume smells of smokey cloves and vanilla

Personality

During her admittedly short life, Ulla has cultivated a unique personality of her own throughout her training. Her wide round eyes are always observant, silently contemplating the situation before speaking up or acting. You will have a hard time convincing her that a calculated action is worse than a rash one.

She can sometimes be terse and oftentimes judgemental, but she saves her worst critique for written reports. She takes her assignments overly seriously, often finding more work for herself before she is through with her task. She was a nightmare for her previous roommates, reporting their minor rules infractions resulting in a rotating door of transfer requests that eventually allowed her to practice being more sociable to learn the careful dance that one must do to earn someone's trust. As her fledgling career flourishes, that shall only be a result of her deep sense of duty towards Star Army and SAINT.

When she is not working she is busy reading history, keeping a journal or practicing embroidery. She keeps a thin binder of her work sometimes spending months on a single project.

History

Ulla Vester was manufactured on YE 44.8.14 in the Nataria Fleet Depot.

After completing Basic Training and making a small collection of irritated former roommates, Ulla continued her studies immediately by taking a SAINT Training Activity to prepare to become an Intelligence Analyst someday onboard a ship. She hoped to more deeply pursue the specialized skills that basic training merely hinted at as they covered the vast gamut of skills that are expected of a soldier.

Given the level of responsibility Ulla demonstrated and exemplary classroom performance and much improved social skills, she proceeded to take basic officer training to complement her Intelligence training. She soon found an affinity for map interpretation, cryptography and risk analysis.

She was wrapping up this training when she was assigned as Intelligence Analyst for the YSS Yukika II, a novelly designed ship of the Fifth Expeditionary Fleet She eagerly awaits meeting her fellow soldiers and officers and stepping into the unknown, but more importantly, she can't wait to document what waits beyond the margins of the known sectors.
