Overview

borrowing a few ingredients from the popular liquor called Plasma Jet, Dusk-gizer gives off a very feint glow, which only however hints at the large amounts of energizing contents within the drink itself. Having become popular by flavor, taste, and necessity, Dusk-gizer is the number one¹⁾ sold energy drink in the NDC.

History

Even during the exodus to Sirris VI, personnel needed a source of quick energy, which a few of the ingredients of Plasma Jet offered. However that wouldn't be enough, so the lab boys in Advanced Research and Development came up with a drink that gave the energy needed for long shifts much more efficiently. Even now in YE 41, the drink is still widely consumed, and has become a commercial drink for those in the NDC needing energy.

Packaging

Contained in a can of transparent durandium, very similar in fact to what was designed for Plasma Jet for commercial sales and distribution. On the exterior is all necessary health information as well as logo and labeling of the drink. On top is a spot on the can where it can be pushed through with a tab to open a hole for the consumer to drink from.

Flavors

Possible flavors available for the food item/ration
