

Iemochi Personal Security

A subsidiary of Iemochi Innovations & Sales, created in YE 39. It seeks to create personal defence products not yet conceived by larger security companies. They also look to create replacements for outdated technology created by these larger companies.

About the Iemochi Personal Security

Iemochi Chiyo created the company after IIS analysts discovered a negative trend of large companies innovating in the civilian security area. Realising she could incorporate modern IIS systems into products to replace the older products that had been made by these companies, she formed the Iemochi Personal Security company.

Logo

The logo depicts a green eye being surrounded by a targeting reticle as if the person in the logo is about to shoot a weapon in defence.
