

Shiori Style Standard Armory

The Yu Standard Armory is a secure storage facility developed by Yugumo Corporation for storing and maintaining a variety of weapons and ammunition. The armory features modular, secure storage solutions and advanced tools for repairing and modifying weapons.

History

The armory was originally developed for the ISS Shiori in YE 42.

Description

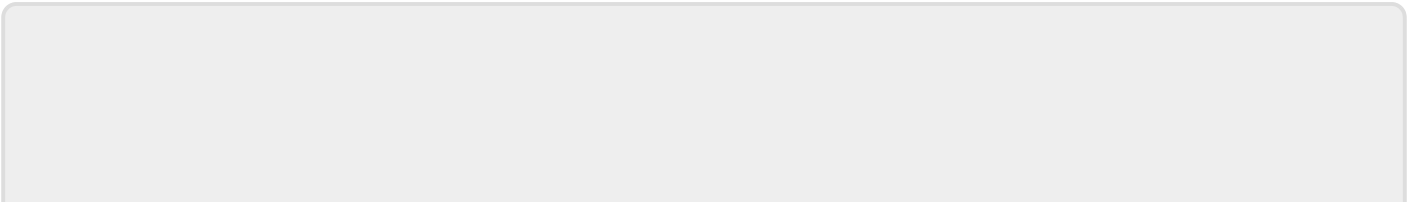

The Yu Standard Armory is a secure facility designed to store and maintain firearms, blades, and other weapons used by the Yuugumo Corporation. It features modular storage solutions that can be adjusted to different sizes and placements, and the walls are equipped with tie-down points and straps to secure the cargo during travel. Additionally, the armory has a small office at the entrance with a secure window for receiving and distributing arms and ammunition.

The facility is also equipped with advanced tools and equipment for repairing and modifying weapons, including precision drills, lathes, and milling machines. The workbench is designed to accommodate multiple projects at once, and experienced armory staff are available to provide guidance and support as needed.
