

Yugumo Merchant Spacy

The Merchant Spacy is divided into 🧑🏻Deck Officers, 🧑🏻Engine Officers, and Rated Crew in the deck, engineering, and support departments, as well as their foreman and immediate supervisors. There are also Medical, Science, and Security officers. It is run by the Yugumo Corporation.

In the Merchant Spacy, only officers, or licensed crew, have ranks, unlicensed crew, the merchant equivalent of enlisted, have ratings.

Licensed Crew

Equivalent to officer ranks in the Star Army of Yamatai, they are further divided by department and speciality.

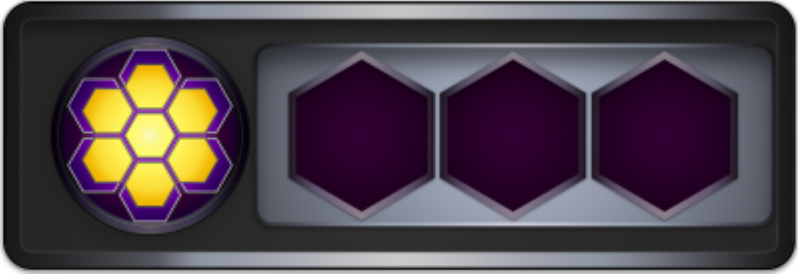

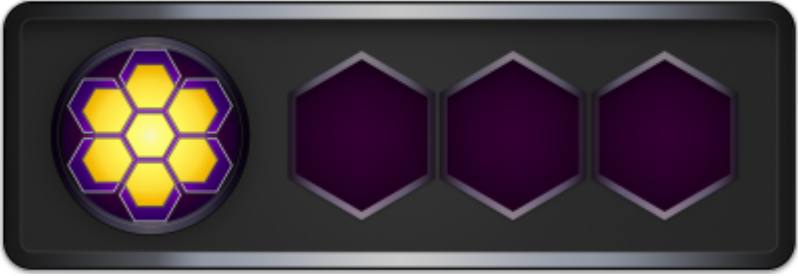

Deck Officers

Deck officers, with the exception of cadets in training, are licensed crew that oversee day to day operations of the ship as a whole and stand watch on the bridge. Chief through Third Officer are command staff who stand watch in the command station of the bridge. The Officer and Junior Officer grades are for bridge crew¹⁾, or small craft pilots²⁾ who are not part of the upper command structure. The deck officer currently standing watch on the bridge is referred to as Teichō (艇長), literally “Skipper,” as are the pilots of small craft. Fleet commanders are not responsible for the day-to-day command of the ship they're stationed on, having a Shipmaster for that, but rather with the overall command of multiple ships with their own, subordinate Shipmasters.

Engine Officers

Engine officers, other than cadets in training, are licensed crew that oversee and stand watch in the engineering department, or have other high-level technical specialties. The Chief Engineer is the highest ranked engineer on the ship and is a member of the command staff. Bridge crew who stand watch in the Systems and Safety Monitor station rather than engineering are also ranked as the watch-standing engineers, but referred to as Technical Officer (Yamataigo Gijutsukan: 技術官). Engineers whose rank reflects a specialty rather than shipboard duty may be referred to as Technical Specialist (Yamataigo: Gijutsu Senmonka, 技術専門家), irrespective of rank.

Science Officers

Science officers operate sensor equipment from the bridge and staff laboratories aboard ship. The Chief Scientist is the highest ranked scientist on the ship and is a member of the command staff. Bridge crew who stand watch at the Science and Sensors station are referred to as simply Science Officer (Yamataigo: Kagaku-kan, 科学官). Science officers who stand watch at a laboratory are generally referred to as Mission Specialist (Yamataigo: Ninmu Senmonka, 任務専門家), irrespective of rank.

Security Officers

Merchant Spacy Security, the Kaihei (海兵, meaning Marines), are Yugumo Keisatsu officers who serve aboard ships, and are all licensed officers regardless of pay grade. Though they are primarily police officers, the upper ranks feature detectives who specialize in investigation, intelligence-counterintelligence, and close protection. Additionally, the Security Department and its officers provide all emergency services on the ship such as paramedic (working with Medical), search and rescue, and firefighting, and are cross-trained as such. The Chief of Security of any ship is a Commissioner of the Yugumo Keisatsu, and the Majors Assistant Commissioners. Bridge officers who stand watch at the Tactical Station are also part of the Security Department, and are of the rank of Lieutenant, Captain or Major. These are referred to as Tactical Officer (Yamataigo: Senjutsu Shōkō, 将校). Cadets are almost solely trainees for bridge Tactical Officer positions. A Sergeant transitioning from supervisor to manager would instead be promoted directly to Lieutenant.
