

Stabsagens

Once an agent reaches the rank of Stabsagens, they are given actual command of a field cell or analysis group. With this position of command, they are actually in the most danger of the entire group. This is normally due to the fact that Stabagens have access to contact information of at most one more cell in the area in order to call for back-up when the need arises. Because of this, Stabagens are often given "suicide tablets" if they cannot avoid capture.

If a Stabagens should survive long enough, they maybe promoted to Unterfeldagens.
