

CU-23

A powerful and robust computer system using the previous processors connected via molecular circuits to connect to the various Data Storage and Displays on board. This style of computer system has existed for centuries and was a technology that had been thought of as had reached it's peak. Because of this, the CU-23 can still be found in many vehicles and vessels deemed to not need a quantum computer.

Vehicles that use the CU-23:

- Strike Craft
- Ground Vehicles
- Aerial Vessels
- Naval Vessels
