

Bajao'te/Sumanâ'te Ruo'sa (Repair Fabrication Room)

This is the description of the standard repair and fabrication room aboard Poku Saeruo Degonjo Tini Poku \(Clan Ships\). This compartment is typically only found on larger vessels or stations.

The room is two decks high and accessed through Anomu Wunyte \(Security Door\)s, on both decks. It has two Makoa Kâbo'ka \(Work Console\)s with Buvoli Kâbo'ka \(Work Chair\)s. Hull braces composed of Mâqirây \(Bound Metal\) protrude from the side Anoi \(Walls\). There are Tyo'te Wuny'ta \(Fire Suppression\) ports and standard Ibâ'te \(Lighting\) in the ceiling.

The room is divided into Repair and Fabrication.

Repair

Traditionally the left side is devoted to repair. A cabinet is located in the corner where common components are stored. There are a number of work benches equipped with diagnostic tools. A proficient Bajao'a \(Technician\) can use this area to fix components of systems, or major parts of a system.

Fabrication

Typically located on the right side, this side has lathes, drill presses as well as circuit board printing systems. It also has the ability to mix materials to produce basic compounds. A well stocked fabrication compartment is capable of producing any common item used on a ship. It is not capable of producing structural items.
