

Mazrit Brandy

Mazrit Brandy is a sweet, thick and tawny liquid made from the fermentation of the Mazrit Bean, a plant found in abundance on Iromakuanhe worlds. It is something of a cross between the terran pear and Coffee bean in smell and taste, and contains an abundance of a potent caffeine-like stimulant. The resulting drink has a high amount of alcohol and stimulant, and often leaves the user a very alert drunk. The taste can be described as something akin to a pear soaked in Irish Cream.
