

Project Star Islands

Project Star Islands was an ambitious endeavor to help ease the burden upon planetary resources, the ecological impact and dwindling habitable areas planet-side. This started with the first series of orbital colonies several centuries prior and up to the present day. More, and more Iromakuanhe have begun to live upon orbital colonies by being born there, or simply choosing to leave their planet-bound brethren behind. Colonies of all shapes and sizes dot the skies of the planets of Iruotl and beyond some having specific purposes, others simply habitats for the masses each unique type of colony tends to bear the name of a given Saint. While others follow a standard template for a given task.
