

LSDF Showering Compartments

LSDF Installations and starships can be equipped with various sizes of showering compartments. These compartments are designed for efficiency when personnel bathe. Shower compartments consist four angled shower heads, a floor grate which includes a low suction force to draw water down into the drain in the event of a zero gravity situation, and an air-jet based drying system. These compartments can be made to provide showering capacity for anywhere between one to fifty persons at a time. Often, these compartments can include benches and lockers as needed.
