

LSDF General Crew Lockers

Located near work areas, and near crew quarters, the general crew locker rooms are intended to serve as a place where LSDF installation and ship personnel can change and store uniforms, and store personal belongings or equipment. General crew locker rooms are rather simple in design, but can include furnishings chosen by the ship or installation commander. General crew lockers include a modest range of Lorath locking mechanisms including biometric scanners, Pico-Jelly keys, and pass-codes. General crew lockers can be placed adjoining to shower or bath facilities.
