

LSDF Medical Compartment - Medium

Designed by the LSDF to be used by the Lorath and their affiliates, the standardized medical compartment has been introduced to promote greater ease in the treatment of personnel by field medics, doctors, and even barely qualified ship crew members. Serving as the primary care facility on mid-sized starships, and in moderately sized installations, the medium sized medical compartment is intended to provide an extensive degree of care. However, due to the size of the design, the medium sized medical compartment is not intended for large numbers of long-term cases.

Information & Equipment

General Information

Purpose

Designed to serve as a source of medical aid for starships and installations that have moderate numbers of personnel, the medium sized medical compartment is intended to serve as a general purpose medical facility which does not provide specialized long term care, but instead is capable of providing short term care with great efficiency while maintaining versatility in treatment by including a number of resources in which larger medical facilities have at their disposal.

Structural Design

Each medium sized medical compartment has been designed to include two standard modes of entry; from lifts and from a door/hatch located on the same deck/floor as the medical compartment. Both modes of entry provide access to the triage and reception area of this variant of medical compartment.

Each medium sized medical compartment has a layout which places separate sections adjacent to the reception and triage area, allowing for ease in moving patients from initial treatment to their next point in treatment, while allowing medical personnel to have easy and quick access to sections as well.
