

LSDF Quartermaster Office

Intended to be a standardized workspace, dedicated to Lorath Self Defense Force quartermaster personnel, the quartermaster office is a workspace in which quartermasters are expected to maintain documentation on equipment aboard a starship, and how such equipment is assigned. Quartermaster offices come with some standard equipment. Standard equipment in all quartermaster offices include a desk space with an integrated workstation, integrated storage compartments, an equipment maintenance workbench, and an equipment scanning and documentation station. Quartermaster offices are largely customized beyond the standard components, and often reflect the nature of the quartermaster officer assigned to the ship or installation. Quartermaster offices border quartermaster supply compartments in many cases.
