

LSDF Commander Quarters

The LSDF designed commander's quarters compartment has been designed to serve as the living space for ship commanders in the LSDF and affiliated organizations.

Information

Designed with comfort in mind for one to four individuals, the LSDF designed the Commander's Quarters to provide a touch of luxury for ship commanders to allow them to unwind from the stress of command, while also offering a presentable living space in the event of hosting visiting representatives. It should be noted that the Commander's Quarters are designed with a standard template in mind, which is often built upon by the occupant, adding features or removing some as needed. The standard Commander's Quarters includes the following;

- One large pit style bed
- One small galley equipped with basic appliances such as the Emfratec 'Kitchen Pal' and Organic Tissue Culture Technology
- Galley-side bar
- Dining Set
- Couch, recliner, and Coffee table set
- Cabinet style shelves
- Dresser with mirror
- Desk with built in communication and computer interface system
- Bath area with sink and counter-top with large mirror
- Toilet
- Tub with shower and Pico-Jelly reservoir
- Private lift access
- Primary corridor entrance/exit, service corridor entrance/exit, maintenance shaft emergency exit.
- Nerimium plate reinforced bulkheads
- Gravity regulation and forcefield projectors
- Wood paneled equipment locker
- Large walk-in closet
