Found on ships where a Q'Abrenal is set to serve on, the Q'Abrenal quarters is the more luxurious cabin found on any ship. It has four rooms, with the largest being the bedroom and the smallest being the duty-room. The cabin, like the ships Neshaten Officer Cabins, are designed to be customizable.

For the most part, these quarters are in a gravity enviroment; however, that can be turned off.

Bedroom

The Bedroom has a single king-sized bed along with a sofa and a holographic or standard TV. It also has a large walk-in closet and a holographic painting that can be configured to either show space or some other type of painting.

In rooms that are used by Daur, the bed is up off the ground and built into the side of the room.

Living Room

The main entry area of the cabin, the living room can be furnished with a sofa, holographic TV, or can be designed into a miniature holographic room to give the occupant their own private recreational room. It also has lush carpetting and soft walls.

Some rooms might have a single light in the ceiling, or might have a light fixture in the wall. There is a control in the wall that helps control the rooms temperture and also helps control the gravity from turning it on or off and also controls the lighting.

Duty Room

The duty room is the area of the cabin where a Q'Abrenal tends to their official duties; it has a working table with a computer and two chairs.
