A type of medicinal paper used by the Kingdom of Neshaten

Yukacurone is a medicinal paper that is created by combining the fruits Curone and Yuka'shane, when this is done, it creates a type of medicine that can be used in conjunction with bandages to help keep a wound clean from infection but also work as a secondary measure by soaking up the bleeding. The paper is made out of seventy percent Yukashane and thirty percent Curone.

Essentially, it's a sponge that goes between the bandage and the wound. When applied, it gives a very cold sensation around the wound followed by brief bouts of pain brought on by the chemicals located in the paper, which seep into the wound and help's to disinfect it.

It can also be used as gauze for small wounds.

As the paper soaks up blood, it gradually changes color, from its typical purple to a light black. Yukacurone is best paired with cold or warm packs.

Price: 175 Rn for one pack.
