

Kyousou Institute of Technology

The Kyoushoukoudai or Kyousou Institute of Technology is a private college located in the southern portion of Kyousou. It is home to about 5,000 full time on-site students. The Institute was formed back before the formation of the empire. Currently attendance is limited to citizens of the Yamatai Star Empire.

Motto

- Where science and art become one.
- ここで、科学と芸術の一つとなっています。
- Ubi una scientia et ars.

Sports

The college has most of typical student sporting teams. Its fencing team is one of the best, trained by volunteers from the Tamahagane Samurai.

Another area where the college excels is their sailing teams. The college also hosts an annual regatta.

Owing to its proximity to the ocean, the college mascot reflects traits that the college eschews. They chose the Okoze (Stingray) a creature that combines grace with an effective defensive capacity.

Campus

The physical campus sits on a site along the Sea of Caitel. The campus shape is hexagonal, and covers 25 square kilometers, or 38.6 square miles. The main campus is located at the center and the remaining space is divided into six triangles and each is dedicated to specific aspects. This includes such things as fields where experimental crops are grown, areas where new construction methods are tried, etc.
