Creating Artwork

Artwork is required for starship submissions.

Art Programs

3D

- DOGA (Free and very easy to use 3D package, similar to lego in feel; the preferred package of our community - beginner)
- Google Sketchup (Free, Surprisingly powerful and easy to use free-form modelling package - intermediate)
- Sculptris (Free 3D sculpting program for organic forms - similar to handling clay - intermediate)
- Modo (Very powerful payware 3D program... Very easy to learn. Poor animation support. - advanced)
- Cinema 4D (Rich 3D package with excellent animation tools but poor modeling and rendering tools - advanced)

2D

- The GIMP (Free open source image editing program - beginner)
- Paint.net (An impressive and free mspaint alternative, bundled with Windows 7. Download for 2000/XP/Vista - beginner)
- Sai Painter (A cheap high end photoshop alternative, extremely popular with Japanese artists - beginner)
- Pencil (Free open source 2D animation package, great for producing short cartoons - intermediate)
- ArtWeaver (A cheap freeware alternative to Corel's Painter X, producing highly stylized work - intermediate)
- Photoshop (An expensive professional suite of tools - extremely powerful - advanced)

What are the requirements/restrictions?

1. Ships should use the Starship Template as a basis for their pages' format.
2. Ships' "About the [Shipname]" sections should be at least two paragraphs long, with at least three sentences in each paragraph, all of which contribute to the description of what the ship is. The history section should be at least one paragraph. DO NOT post ship designs with just a one-sentence description!

3. Ships must follow all the Submission Rules.
4. Ships speeds should try to fit well with the Starship Speed Standard.
5. Articles not yet approved MUST be tagged as not approved and should be listed in the WIP.
6. Artwork is REQUIRED for starships and spacecraft, and strongly encouraged for all other submissions.

Where do I submit my design?

- To discuss or get approval: Post a message in the New Technologies and Setting Elements
