Adrenal Alacrity

The newest stim made by the Moiseiwitsch drug company, its formula is a company secret. It reduces the body's resistance to dopamine, and adrenalin, causing a restless "high" which is incredibly focused at the same time. Already showing up on the black-market as a powder under the slang name "Restless," it is still in testing in the Nepleslian army, given to solders intravenously prior to battle. Think "Slam" crossed with "Big K", with similar sources of death, and similar side-effects it is unknown how addictive it is, and whether or not it's degenerative.

Cost: 100 DA per dose.
