

Numb

Numb is an anesthetic that does not cause unconsciousness.

- Manufacturer: Origin Industries
- Price: 10 DA

Overview

A drug that is completely defined by its name. Numb produces a completely painless state by using advanced chemical engineering to block 79-97% of the pain sensors/receptors in the body. This drug is targeted heavily toward hospitals and the military. Numb is ingested through a quick-dissolving tablet, injected to an area as a liquid, or given in minor doses through gas.

Effects

Numb affects the pain sensors as well as the pain receptor in the brain of the body. This drug blocks the flow of information running between the sensors and receptor, effectively eliminating pain for the most part. It will last up to 7 hours, depending on the body, conditions, etc.

Side Effects

- Hallucinations
- Temporary sensory loss/overloading
- Depression
- Drowsiness

Overdose

- Extreme hallucinations
- Permanent sensory loss
- Suicidal tendencies
- Sleeplessness
