

David Maverock's Machete

Classification

- Type: Short Sword
- Size: 45cm
- Mass: 2.65lbs
- Material: Nerimium

Components

- Monomolecular Knit
- Monomolecular Edge

Description: David Maverock's machete is nothing too special, it is a large heavy knife with a broad blade, used as both a slashing weapon and a tool, the front of the blade is angled like a 🗡️ kurki as it curves into a piercing point and transitions into a serrated edge that runs the length of half the blade.

The machete is a little beat up and looks like it has been used a lot yet well-maintained, with a rubberised grip that ends in a crushing pommel – designed to break windows and even cinderblocks, it also has an adjustable paracord wrist-strap that runs through a small hole where the pommel and handle meet.
