Damage Description

Her Blade deals damage mainly through cuts, slashes and cleaving, and thanks to the Aether, burning. it is a Tier 6 Heavy Anti-Armor

Appearance Description

The katana is a single-edged long sword with a slightly curved blade and a rubber coated Durandium alloy grip that gives Makoto options to wield the sword with a one-handed or two-handed grip. While focused on killing she tends to grip with both hands, but she does usually use only one hand while confident. Like all Katana's of the caliber, the sharpest points of the Zesuaium blade have a, monomolecular edge giving Makoto greater cutting power.

Purpose/Usage

Purpose/Usage: Shadow Vipers use Transparent blades like this primarily as a an anti-power armor melee weapon. Because of her body's limitations on being invisible she seldom uses this while in space.

storage

Using a equally invisible hilt at her side, the Katana can be sheathed in the handle, to allow Makoto some rest from combat, or to free her hands.

Due to this being a personal item, and not something made from scratch. I Charaa made the decision to create this without the wip namespace. If this was in error I apologize.
