

Toyotomi Training Institute

Created in early YE 43, the Toyotomi Training Institute (TTI) is designed to integrate Helashio and other former slaves to live independently in a free society.

History

After the Third Battle Of Nataria and the Battle Of Glimmergold that ended the Kuvexian War, Second Chance Salvage Corporation commenced one of their largest salvage giveaways to celebrate the victory. Like every other citizen of the Yamatai Star Empire, Mikael Harris participated to see what scraps he would usually get to sale. Much to his amazement, he instead got himself several Helashio in boxes, complete with slave collars. This was a standard practice back when the Lorath Matriarchy were still in power, keeping the Helashio enslaved.

If Mikael was a less than honorable individual, he would have sent them into storage off Yamatai \(Planet\) and wait for his eventual retirement to start his harem. But he instead had a strong hatred for slavery and thankful that his place of citizenship had outlawed it for themselves awhile back. So, with his own funds, he found as many other listings of Helashio slaves Second Chance had listed for release and purchased their release to him (as well as a few other individuals).

Now with an even larger number of Helashio to be set free, he realized that it wasn't such a good idea to blindly set them free. As they were trained to be slaves, they were highly susceptible to the more suspect members of society. The last thing he wanted was for them to end up going to the brothels because it was the only thing they happen to know. They were going to need to be trained on how to act as independent individuals so if they still choose to go to the brothel, it is of their own volition.

Getting in touch with a few corporate contacts he had (largely within Yugumo Corporation and Ryu Keiretsu), Mikael was able to secure funding to start a training institute named after a minor figure in pushing for the abolitionist of slavery. While he could have simply hired tutors for all the Helashio he freed, he was looking long term to a need within the Empire.

As he was still currently active duty and often away from Yamatai, he hired his friend Victor Maier to supervise it all on his behalf. Already owning a small private security firm as a bouncer, he was a the natural pick to keep his new friends safe.

Description

The institute is currently located within a rented out office level within an office tower. It is split into three sections: the administration offices to the left side of the level, class and meeting rooms on the right side of the level (making up the majority of the space), and the reception area/commons in the middle with the entrance.

Transportation

The Toyotomi Training Institute is conveniently located centrally within Ternifac in office space donated by the Fuji Corporation. It can be easily accessed by public transportation or with a privately owned vehicle.

People

There are primarily two types of people at the Toyotomi Training Institute: staff and students. As the institute is new, the staff is limited (largely semi-sapient gynoids and androids) and 8 Helashios (7 female and 1 male) as of YE43 7月.
