

Division 5

Division 5, the newly formed specialist counter-terrorism unit of the Neshaten law enforcement. Employing detectives and field operatives alike the division is tasked with tracking down and dealing with terror cells regular units can't. Led by an accomplished and fun-loving captain the team is bound to fight terror with a few laughs along the way, and whoever said a job was all work and no play.

Plot Overview

Division 5 is the newly formed specialist CT unit of the Neshaten law enforcement, after the recent emergence of bigger and deadlier terror threats it was clear a new group was required to specifically deal with these growing concerns. The primary mission of Division 5 operatives is to discover and sabotage terrorist plots as well as clearing out known and hidden terror cells around major cities, protection of the populous comes above all else including their own lives.

While they act mainly against terror threats the division is also expected to complete more standard law enforcement duties when possible, such as being a first responder to emergency calls and assisting in closing difficult cases. The group is not exempt from any of the basic Neshaten laws and does not receive unnecessary benefits with most perks of the job being used to assist in further completing their missions however they still receive the standard benefits of law enforcement workers.

For a more OOC description of this plot, for those who have seen the anime PsychoPass the style of the plot is inspired by said anime and follows a similar structure and use of the group. CSI is also a relatively good descriptor of the style of activity this plot will include, with case solving not being solely office or field work.
