Plot Overview

The Kuvaxian war is over, peace has finally returned to Kikyo space, but the task is not yet done. Kuvexians, pirates, and chaos are still present in various locations. the 48th, a flotilla of the 1XF, has been deployed in the Tange System to provide humanitarian aid to these planets. But there are still some Kuvexians left on these planets, or hiding in the Tange system. The YSS Wakaba, a Shari-Class vessel that is the flagship of the 48th is there to provide protection over the 48th and clear out the sector. Players will join the Wakaba crew to venture into the (un)known for defensive, search and rescue and retaking the system planet by planet.

Plots will continue to focus on Characters development and stories.

Episode 1: The Ghost Outpost

With Task Force 48 deployed at Tange System the flotilla began their humanitarian duties to help with the rebuild of the capital homeworld of the Tange star system. The duties were provided to all ships as was expected of them. The duty of YSS Wakaba was to perform a sweep of the star system and get rid of any remnants of the Interstellar Kingdom Of Kuvexia that dared to stay behind. However, Wakaba Inaho reports to her Captain that there is a signal coming from Tange V. The Wakaba is ordered to deploy immediately to investigate the unknown signal.

Episode 2: We ain't in Yamatai No More

After pushing the Kuvexians remnants from the outpost off and securing the Tange system even more. The Wakaba went into a pursuit to find more Kuvexians hiding in the nebula. However what they found was anything but that, they arrived at a large Kuvexian starships graveyard, unknown what happened to these ships, they soon find themselves trapped into a gravity pulled anomaly that pulled them into an unknown location. The ship received severe damage, crew injured or worse dead and they didn't know what kind adventure awaited them right now.

Episode 3: The scenic route home

After surviving one of the toughest fights in the Wakaba's history, the ship attempts to find it's way home. Severely damaged, and with supplies beginning to run low, they search for an inhabitable planet or some traders. Instead they find more danger and hardships than they ever imagined. But courage, valor and a little bit of love keeps them going.

Rescue

The Wakaba has been crashed on a habitable planet for almost 8 months. The ship has been repaired as best as it could be with the available tools and resources but without a new Aether generator the ship will never fly again. The crew has increased by almost 200 new nekos who have been born to the current ships crew. Just as the Wakaba begins to settle down into its seeming new life, they are found by the YSS Resurgence. The Resurgence crew rescues the Wakaba by boarding an attacking Mishhu cruiser and stealing its Aether Generator. The mighty Wakaba takes to the heavens again and is escorted back to Yamatai space.

Celebration

Returned to Yamatai space, the crew receives some much deserved rest. Before then, Captain Thomas Canterbury holds a final dinner for the crew before they go their separate ways. Many of the crew are awarded special honors but no one was expecting Mistress Taisho Yui herself coming and presenting four of the crew with the Order of the Blazing Sun for their heroism.

Episode 4 Return to the Battle

Repaired and rested, the YSS Wakaba takes to the stars again. Joining the 1st Fleet in it's fight against the returned Mishhu threat, the Wakaba faces new challenges and dangers.
