Anisa System

The Anisa System is a 🎧 planetary system in the Yamatai Core Sector. The system was named after the famous Nepleslian general and tactician Anisa Harrison (Arisa Anisa in Yamataian).

It has been part of the Yamatai Star Empire since YE 23, and it is located to the galactic east of the Yamatai Star System.

History and Background

The Yamatai Star Empire first terraformed and colonized Anisa III(Anisa) in YE 23. As of the end YE 27, the system had a relatively low population and was only home to a small monitoring station for the Star Army of Yamatai.[1] The system became the headquarters for the Third Expeditionary Fleet under the command of Taisho Henry Chen. An Iori-Class Star Fortress named Anisa Star Fortress was moved into the system around this time as well.[2] The YSS Celia frequently conducted missions out of this system.

In YE 28, a probe emerged into the system and broadcasted a message about Empress Ketsurui Ayame that was never heard into its entirety due to it being jammed by the Star Army of Yamatai.[3]

Maximillian Alphonse became the Senator for the system in YE 29.[4] As part of the defense plans for the system the Third Expeditionary Fleet deployed a Yuumi-class Battleship, the YSS Jal[5] to provide additional defense for the system and Anisa Star Fortress.[6] That same year Senator Maximillian Alphonse became involved in scandal[7] and was influenced to propose Proposal #81 - Repealing of Taisho Yui's Species Restrictions which ended up being defeated in veto by Emperor Kitsurugi Uesu.[8] The Species Restriction Order of YE 29 was put through, which as a result left the Third Expeditionary Fleet under staffed due to the fact it had been one of the most diverse fleets in the Star Army of Yamatai.[9] The order also removed Taisho Henry Chen from his position as that he was a Nepleslian. The system temporarily lost its place as the headquarters of the fleet when they moved to the Kazumi, under Taisho Nakamura Miku.

By YE 31, the Anisa System had grown in population significantly, and the Third Expeditionary Fleet's headquarters was relocated back to the system, which was temporary as that the fleet was disbanded in YE 34. [10] In YE 33, food and relief supplies were sent from the Anisa System to Yamatai (Planet) to combat food shortages in the aftermath of the destruction of Hoshi no Iori during the Battle of Yamatai.[11] A Frontier Fort was also constructed on Anisa III around that same time.

Also in YE 33, the system also took in 200 million of the refugees that year from the United Outer Colonies that had fallen apart and had been laid waste by the NMX. They were temporarily housed in Escape Pods. [12]

In YE 34, Murasaki Keiretsu, in cooperation with the government of the Yamatai Star Empire, positioned White Harbor Station in the L2 Lagrange point of Anisa III's orbit.

Communications are provided by a network of Emrys Satellites put into orbit in YE 34

By the end of YE 34, the influx of refugees triggered newly appointed Senator Asunana Yuki[13] to authorize the construction of six new cities. Construction started just a week after the announcement, with some refugees - being enthusiastic about the prospect of a new home - lending a hand with the construction. Being an agricultural world, Yuki also set about authorizing more land to be used for growing crops, with refugees lining up to land a potential job within these new businesses.

The Star Army of Yamatai established a "Guriddo" Defense System in the system in YE 42. The system includes:

- 20 Ke-H5-W3200 "Kyouheki" Defense Platforms each typically controls two Ke-H5-M3200 "Nesuto" Docking Platforms, but can handle more.
    - 10 Ke-H5-M3200 "Nesuto" Docking Platforms each with 18 Ke-H5-W3201 "Suzumebachi" Attack Drones
        - 180 Ke-H5-W3201 "Suzumebachi" Attack Drones

As of YE 43, Anisa remains an important populated system within the Yamatai Star Empire, and is an agricultural powerhouse for the nation.

In YE 43.6, the YSS Resurgence rescued a Senti from their damaged starship in the Anisa system[14].

Description

Anisa is a Core System of the Yamatai Star Empire.

The Anisa Star

The center of the Anisa System.

The Anisa Star
System Registry	Anisa-1
Star Name	Anisa
Type	G (Spectral Class)
Surface Temperature	3,500 K
Average Mass (Yamatai Comparison)	1.7

Number of Planets	4

Anisa I

Anisa I is a rocky terrestrial world with no atmosphere. It is a typical extremely hot near-to-star terrestrial planet with an extremely active volcanic history and geology.

Anisa II

A lifeless terrestrial world with an extremely dense atmosphere of carbon dioxide. The planet is known for its extremely volatile surface conditions and beyond the possibility of future automated or subterranean mining, there is little chance of it ever being colonized.

Anisa III(Anisa)

Anisa is a lush forest world created in the typical image of Yamatai (Planet); it is covered in vast seas and oceans of pristine blues, snowcapped gray mountains, and enormous dark green coniferous forests.

Anisa III
Type:	"Super" Terrestrial[15]
Population:	980 Million (YE 43 census)
Satellites:	2[16]
Orbital Stations:	1

"The garden of the Yamatai Star Empire," and the only populated planet in the Anisa System. While there are several cities on the planet, the focus remains on agricultural development. Anisa produces a tremendous amount of food each year, as farmers enjoy rich fertile soil and optimum growing conditions for many crop species.

White Harbor Station

White Harbor Station is a massive space-station jointly operated by Murasaki Keiretsu and the Yamatai Star Empire.

Type:	Space Station
Population:	34 Million (YE 43 census)

Anisa IV

Anisa IV is a gas giant system with twelve moons has been mapped but never intensely been explored.

People

The population consists of mainly Minkan and Nekovalkyrja, with some Human and Separa'Shan. The population is known for their generosity and hospitality. Many of the population were refugees from the fallen United Outer Colonies that settled there after YE 33.
