

Na-ZPER-02b Hyperspace Tap Reactor

NAM Hyperspace Tap reactors are featured prominently on almost all Star Military of the Democratic Imperium of Nepleslia warships, and based on Nerimian technology. It works by breaking down higher dimensional space into lower dimensional space, releasing nearly limitless amounts of energy at the cost of increasing entropy in the universe. Because Nermian technology works differently it isn't vulnerable to anti-gravity devices like its aether counterpart.

A single reactor is more than enough to power the basic systems of any starship, however multiple reactors may be required to run all of the ubertech on a ship such as FTL engines and communication.
