

Weltraumflotte Headquarters

WIP: This article is a work in progress.

The last Military Orbital Space Station in existence, Weltraumflotte Headquarters is the Orbital Command and Control Center, as well as the primary Logistics Center, for all of the Weltraumflotte. However, since expanding outside of the Jaspis System, Weltraumflotte HQ has been only partially staffed and many of its sections closed off and powered down in order to apply resources to more important things.

Future Plans for Weltraumflotte Headquarters

Due to the station being obsolete by the Weltraumflotte's standards currently, there is much debate as to what to do with Weltraumflotte HQ. Currently, there are two factions in the Weltraumflotte: updating the station to become a literal fortress or replacing the station with a new design. Both sides have valid points in their argument and neither seems to be backing down.
